Area Groups Unite on City As College Site

(Continued from Page One) Site Selection Committee will make its decision following a meeting in Long Beach in early November. Spokesmen for both Torrance and Peninsula proponents are to be heard at these sessions, it is reported.

"It is extremely important that the organizations and citizens in this area make it known that they will welcome the college in Torrance. The Advisory Committee is working to arm this city's representatives when they appear with resolutions from organizations and letters from residents," Beadles said.

He noted copies of a sample resolution are available by writing "College Committee, Torrance City Hall, Torrance." Residents also were asked to write their letters to the State Committee and mail them to that address.

The Advisory Committee chairman also reported that speakers are available to relate the facts about the college and its location. These

His voting record since 1946 shows a softness towards the red threat, and I think people in the District are looking for someone who will take a much stronger stand to preserve our peace and security.

"Isn't it foolish to spend billions around the world if we can't even keep our own back yard clean?"

TREE FARMING

Back in 1940 a group of lumbermen in Oregon and Washington launched the tree farm program which was to encourage private forest land owners to apply sound, scientific forest management to their taxpaying forest lands. Today, the Tree Farm program has spread nationwide and nearly 60 million acres of private lands are enrolled in this great conservation plan.
