FLIP-FLOP

It is said that the total figure may come well below the $5 million that the state legislature has appropriated to buy the site of the new South Coast College which now embraces a much larger area than originally planned with the shift of the Santa Monica mountains.

Many people are indignant, saying that the Board of Trustees has broken faith with them, and gone back on implied promises made during the campaign to pass the bond issue for state colleges.

what you have to say on the location of the college. We'll publish your letters and see that they reach people who have the power to place the college in Torrance.

Editor:

The site, if established in Torrance, is in my opinion the only logical place to have the college, it being so much more accessible, leaving room for further development and not three miles from USC or UCLA.

I don't think politics should be an important factor in the choice of a site.

Editor:

The colleges out of range of Torrance are:

UCLA, USC, Loyola, Santa Monica College, Occidental, Los Angeles City College.

Therefore the college should be located in Torrance. I think the whole Fox Hills deal stinks.

I am glad to see that you take the positive view on this issue instead of the negative as some other papers do.

1823 Border Ave.

Editor:

Having three sons who will be eligible for college in a few short years, I am greatly concerned that the new college be located in Torrance.

Mrs. Donald Bennett

Editor:

I think it is outrageous that there should be any contemplation of building the new college so far away from the districts it is intended to serve.

Mrs. R. M. Harrison

Editor:

The suitable location for the new South Bay college site is the Torrance site. It is not only in an excellent location for the ENTIRE South Bay area, but it is also in the very center of a rapidly progressing area. Extremely careful consideration must be taken in choosing a site. Hurried decisions of the board will undoubtedly eliminate the choice of future college students. The vote of the public is TORRANCE.

A future college student.

Bank safety is more than the guard at the door.

A bank keeps your money safe—but not just by locking it up. Besides keeping large cash reserves, banks make careful investments. Banks invest in industry, in shops, in farms. They put money in auto loans, personal loans, real estate loans. It's the old principle of spreading out for safety. Safety which makes thousands of people choose one place for their savings: a bank.
