

Hahn Gets Big Hello From Carson

Supervisor Kenneth Hahn was welcomed to the Carson area, which recently became a part of his District, in an "old time rally" Wednesday at 4 p.m.

Sponsoring the welcome was the Carson Chamber of Commerce, headed by president Art Reeves. Reeves has appointed a special committee to plan the ceremony which will be headed by John McDonnell, president of the Chamber. Serving on the committee are Ben Cluff and Paul Schneider.

The rally centered at the intersection of Carson and Main Streets and included a 40-piece band.

"In welcoming Supervisor Hahn to our district," McDonnell said, "We feel confident that the problems of our area will receive first hand attention before the board of supervisors. The people of this district are familiar with Supervisor Hahn's fine record and we are extremely happy that he will be our representative in county government."

"I am proud to have the Carson-North Torrance areas in my district and I look forward to getting better acquainted with the residents," Hahn said.

Further information about the welcoming rally may be obtained by calling McDonnell, TE 4-2681.

SUPERVISOR Kenneth Hahn signs autographs for school children who joined a large crowd welcoming him at a rally in his honor Wednesday at the Carson Branch of the Bank of America. The rally, sponsored by the Carson Chamber of Commerce, included talks by civic leaders, the Los Caballeros Youth Band, and hundreds of balloons for the youngsters.

RED CROSS CHAIRMAN for the Torrance-Lomita branch of the Los Angeles chapter is Mrs. Mary Pagac, left, who succeeds George Post, right, in heading up the local organization. New branch officers and board members were elected June 6 at the annual public meeting and will officially take office July 1.

ALUMNAE TEA The third annual Alumnae Tea for the Jane Addams organization is slated by Narbonne High School for Sunday, June 23, at 3 p.m. in the Narbonne Multipurpose Room. All former Jane Addams students are being invited to the tea.
