FRANK TALK

by Marion Frank

for the Beverly Hilton in September.

Liberace's August 19 concert in Melodyland Theatre is a completely new show, tailored for the loyal Liberace fans who have followed him through the past decade. Several selections from his new Coral Records album, such as "As Time Goes By." The concert is lavishly mounted, and will feature an 18 piece orchestra.

Bobby Scott, who will appear at the Parish House in Hawthorne, starting Sunday, August 18, has appeared on Radio and TV Shows with stars such as Bing Crosby, Betty Grable, Arthur Godfrey and other top notch stars of stage and screen. He has had successful engagements in hotels and theatres from coast to coast. Maybe some of you will recall the talented Bobby when he appeared at one time in Inglewood for about a year in a couple of the local bistros.

People keep asking, so here it is: The Odyssey (in Anaheim) means an epic poem narrating the experiences of Odysseus after the Trojan War: Homer is the supposed author. Now, "who is Odysseus?" A king of ancient Ithaca, a hero of Homer's "Odyssey," a leader in the Trojan War: named "Ulysses" by the Romans. I'll "Grant" you, it is confusing.

There was a gala celebration on Monday evening for "Purveyor and Suppliers" at the opening of Love's Pit Barbecue No. 13, located at Crenshaw and Highway 101 in Torrance. Good food and music by the "Love's Gypsies" was enjoyed by all. The hosts, pictured here with the "gypsies" were Mr. William Gross, general manager of Love's Enterprises, Inc., and also manager of the local location, and the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Love. The new restaurant was open to the public on Tuesday, August 13.

"Tis Pity" Coming To UCLA Theater

Nothing tests the mettle of an actor quite like repertory — at least in the judgment of those cast in widely divergent roles in "Peribanez" and "Tis Pity She's a Whore," UCLA Theatre Group productions performed on alternate nights through Sept. 29 at Schoenberg Hall.

Susan and Paul Carr, for example, young lovers in "Tis Pity," appear as a cunning female and a foppish painter in "Peribanez," while Rae Allen, a virtuous wife in the latter, enacts a vindictive hussy in the former.

Others in sharply contrasting characterizations: Paul Mazursky, a self-righteous cardinal and a scheming servant; Athan Karras, a protective friend and a murdering suitor; and James T. Callahan, a slapstick buffoon and a haughty nobleman.

Directed by Lamont Johnson, the shows open the 1963-64 season for Theatre Group, the professional company affiliated with University Extension, UCLA. "Peribanez," written by Lope de Vega, a contemporary of Shakespeare, combines comedy, tragedy, music and dance in portraying life in 15th century Spain. "Tis Pity," by Elizabethan English dramatist John Ford, is also a mixture of the tragic and the comic.

Ticket information may be obtained by phoning BR 2-8911 or GR 8-9711.

SCREEN POOL

To give a swimming pool a touch of individuality, build a garden screen along two sides and use it as a backdrop for simple planting beds. Screen can be built with western red cedar 1x2s spaced a half inch apart and nailed horizontally on a frame of 2x4s. Posts should be cedar 4x4s.

Rock and Roll fans enjoy the dance music of this fine young group from the East, every Wednesday night at Bub Thomas' "Roaring 20's", 166th and Crenshaw. The HI-HATS include: Danny McCabe (seated), Mike Davies, Tony Davies and George Ports.

Belafonte at Greek Theat'r

Harry Belafonte is one star who doesn't need a delayed entrance to highlight his importance and from the moment the Greek Theater curtain opened Monday evening, August 12, the tall, striking figure that is his stepped right out and called "Look Over Yonder."

But this technique of Belafonte's of not making his audience wait till the second half for the entrance of the primary attraction, is the only similarity between this and any other Belafonte presentation in the past. He has the Walter Nicks dance troupe expand on the visual aspect by punctuating many of his numbers with imaginatively staged choreography. In addition, they featured in some of their own selections, notably "Pas de Deux," a rousing handclapping "Hootin Blues" and a dramatically vibrant African piece called "The Boot Dance."

Some of the songs Belafonte rendered include "Glory Manger," "Shake That Little Foot," the English "Merry Minuet," Israel's "Hayoshevet Baganim" and the haunting calypso "Sailor Man."

Scenic design is by famed Broadway artist Ralph Alvin Colt. The musical director is Howard Roberts.

As in the past, Belafonte introduced a new artist in the person of one Joan Tolver. A devotee of the art of folk music stemming from childhood in Kentucky, Miss Tolver in her first professional appearances presents a fresh, completely unique talent and has garnered accolades from press and audience during the current tour.

The Belafonte engagement will continue through Saturday, Sept. 7.
