

FROM THE WINGS

By Betty Schroeder

Taking no back seat to any Hollywood Oscar awards, Chapel Theatre in Torrance brought all the glitter and glamour to the Jump 'N' Jack restaurant where their Eighth Annual Award Dinner-Dance was held last Saturday night. Although there were many sympathetic disappointments felt by actors and audience alike for those who were not able to receive awards for the tremendous work that was done by each and every performer, director and backstage worker, the pleasure and good feeling for those who received the presentations overcame these temporary let downs. Then, too, there is always next year, with the hope of better luck next time.

Dick Miller of Miraleste acted as master of ceremonies and was quite at home at the podium with his flair of the ad lib and spontaneous joviality. Guests of honor were Mayor and Mrs. Al Isen of Torrance and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Stewart of Redondo Beach, with all being the brunt of many of Miller's puns. For his "outstanding" television appearances during the past few weeks, Mayor Isen was presented with a gag award by Steve Sands and it was given with warm feelings from all for the Mayor's moral support of the theatre and its workings.

The awards and their recipients, in order of the presentations, include: best character actress presented by Mrs. Harold Clark to Carolyn Conwell of San Pedro for "Houseboat Named Pebbles"; best character actor presented by Dr. Harold Clark to Lyle Smith of Manhattan Beach for "Devil's Advocate"; best supporting actress presented by Don McLaren to Maxine Dessau of Hollywood Riviera for "Devil's Advocate"; best supporting actor presented by Mrs. McLaren to Murray Jarvis of Hermosa Beach for "Send Me No Flowers"; best juvenile actress presented by Mrs. Marge Pinken to Toni Schroeder of Torrance for "The Miracle Worker"; best juvenile actor presented by Francis Harrison to Noel Shire of Torrance for "Devil's Advocate"; outstanding achievement for backstage work presented by Mrs. E. T. Lahey to Rudi Medina of Lomita; best producer presented by Sam Stewart to Phyllis Palmer of Redondo Beach for "Marriage Go-Round"; best director presented by Dick Miller to Don Gish of Palos Verdes for "The Miracle Worker"; best comedienne presented by Welder Daniel to Rosemary Buell of Rolling Hills for "Marriage Go-Round"; best comedian presented by Mrs. Sam Stewart to Dick Miller of Miraleste for "Marriage Go-Round"; best dramatic actor presented by Ed Long to Tom Lowry of Los Angeles for "Devil's Advocate"; and best dramatic actress presented by Don Gish to Kathleen Briggs of Manhattan Beach for "The Miracle Worker."

The busiest one at the banquet was photographer Pat Monteleone of Redondo Beach who kept bobbing up and down taking candid shots of anyone and everyone before, during and after dinner and especially during the presentations of the awards. As always, whenever there is a successful man, there is a faithful woman behind him. Such was the case with Pat—there was his wife Mabel, trailing behind him with the extension cord, plugging it in and out, wherever she could find a handy electric outlet as Pat went zooming around the banquet room!

Dancing was enjoyed to the tunes of Hayden Richards and his band. Special thanks of appreciation go to Mr. and Mrs. David Borst of Palos Verdes Estates for their arranging the affair—and a good time was had by all!

Local Girls at Pomona

Among the 321 freshmen accepted for the fall term at Pomona College are two Torrance graduates of Gardena High School.

They are Barbara Rosenbaum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Rosenbaum, 1529 W. 209th St., and Linda Yeargin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Yeargin, 21013 New Hampshire.

Of the 321 freshmen, 57 come with "honors at entrance," a distinction based on their straight-A averages in high school.

New students will arrive at this 76-year-old liberal arts college Sept. 20 for a week of orientation, tests, conferences, get-acquainted parties and registration. Opening convocation and the start of classes are set for Sept. 26.
