Carson High Students Sell Canned Peanuts

Thousands of cans of peanuts were distributed on the Carson High School campus Wednesday, to raise funds for the student body.

This drive, held for the second time, will last from October 16 to Oct. 28. Each student was given 6 cans to sell at 50c per can. Approximately 12,000 cans were brought to Carson.

Last year nearly 10,700 cans were sold, totaling $2,500 for the student body. The money was used to buy Carson's band uniforms and contributed toward a few school functions.

Since Carson High is a new school, sufficient funds are lacking. The profit of the sales will go toward the student body funds to be used as needed.

Sponsors of the drive are Mr. Donald Pelton, Mr. Rawson Gorsch, and others. "We expect more money this year due to the increase of enrollment and the enthusiasm of the students," said Mr.

Gorsch. Last year the peanut drive was an overwhelming success. Some students went all out for the drive and one Carsonite, Warren Whidbee, single-handedly sold about 200 cans.

The drive will be handled through period 2 classes, as was the case last year.
