Scouting Around

GIRL SCOUT TROOP 128
Girl Scouts of Troop 128 recently attended the Senior Girl Scout Encampment at Newport Dunes. Approximately 1700 girls from the Los Angeles area gathered for the three day camp. The Mariners of Troop 128, the Ann McKim ship, planned for the trip at weekly meetings.

Friday evening the camp, consisting of three tents, a tarp shelter, a working table, a grease pit, two washing stands, the ship's flag, and the American flag, was set up. Following dinner, the girls gathered for informal entertainment.

Saturday morning the camp was readied for inspection. The Senior Girl Scouts attended song and new program workshops in the morning, and in the afternoon they went swimming, sailing, rowing and canoeing. After dinner the scouts gathered around the campfire for skits and songs. Church services were held Sunday.

Mrs. L. H. Voien, leader, was assisted by Mrs. Dalton and Mrs. McVey. Mrs. Kennedy, from the Girl Scout National Headquarters was a guest at luncheon on Saturday. Members attending were: Judy Bradford, Bonnie Dalton, Jackie Harmon, Mary Kane, Pat McVey, Connie Sudmeir, Cindy Wickers, Candy Voien, Dana Wolinsky, Janis Albright, and guest Linda Scott.

TROOPS 228, 201, AND 146
A complete camp was set up on the grounds of the Madrona School in order to provide an opportunity for the boys of Scout Troop 201 and girls of Troop 288 under the sponsorship of Madrona PTA to demonstrate camping skills during the annual PTA carnival last weekend. Guests of Troop 288 were members of sister troop 146.

Contests of knot tying, fire building, compass reading, and tent erecting were conducted.

In the evening Court of Awards was held around the campfire. Ribbons won during the afternoon were presented by the PTA Boy Scout Representative Ray Stewart and a perpetual trophy was awarded by the PTA president, Mrs. Ray Stewart.

Jack Montgomery, Scout Master presented badges and awards earned by the boys during the summer. Mrs. James Alexander, Girl Scout Leader, led the girls in a rededication ceremony as they were promoted from Junior to Cadette rank.

BOY SCOUT TROOP 215
