Bringing Up Baby. HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERDER, MOTHER OF 5. Most baby-care experts advise against propping the bottle for baby's feedings. Apart from the warmth, comfort and security you give your baby when you hold him, there are rather nice benefits for you. Feeding time gives your on-the-go body a chance to relax, your feet a fine rest. Above all, you achieve a special "oneness" with your baby, reward enough for any mother. Warming thought. If baby's a dawdler, one of those knitted coasters will help keep the bottle warm longer. Solid comfort. As soon as your doctor gives you the green light on cereal, Gerber Cereal Sises are just right for a bird-size appetite . . . and the perfect way to introduce baby to different flavors. This handy, six-in-1 package contains small-size boxes of Rice Cereal, High Protein Cereal, Barley, Mixed Cereal and two Oatmeal. After baby samples all five, and indicates his favorites, you can get Gerber Cereals in the regular, large-size boxes. All Gerber Cereals have the delicate flavors and super-smooth texture that encourage baby to take to this important basic food. And they're enriched with iron, calcium and B-vitamins to get him off to a good nutritional start. Saving plans. (1) If you've a two-story house, you'll save many a step by keeping a supply of diapers both upstairs and down. (2) Folding a day's supply of diapers at one time simplifies and speeds the pin-up job. Why vitamin C? Doctors specify this vitamin early in the infant diet because breast milk or cow's milk have very little vitamin C, which baby needs every day. Gerber Juices — all nine of them — are rich in this important vitamin, needed for sound gums and other body tissues. While Orange Juice has been the traditional "starter," doctors often recommend Gerber Apple Juice because it's especially mild and well-tolerated by babies.
