

Albacore Remain Prime Target for Fishermen

Albacore continue to be the prime target for Southland sportfishers with the longfins now a 5 to 6 hour run from Newport Beach.

The longfins — and there are mile after mile of them out there — are scattered all the way from San Clemente Island down to the offshore islands off San Diego.

The red tide has all but disappeared and coastal fishing is keeping pace with the red-hot albacore action.

HERE IS the "catch" for Balboa Pavilion and Seasport Landing for the past seven days as proof: 1,175 anglers brought back 1,026 albacore, 2,000 barracuda, 3,379 bonito, 908 bass, 129 halibut, 3 white sea bass, 1 black sea bass, 1 marlin, 4 yellowtail and 3 bluefin tuna. Albacore fishermen averaged almost 2.5 fish each with 417 anglers bringing in that 1,026 total.

Here's the complete salt water report:

Newport Bay skiff and dock fishing. Fair to slow. Small halibut, a few spottin croaker. Bass fair on trolled multi-feathered lures.

ALBACORE — catches building up daily, but there is still "an off day" now and then as the albies refuse to come up. Good fishing is predicted for at least another month. Water is calm and on the warm side.

Marlin—Total catch to date way below last year's, but indications for increased tempo in next week or so are excellent. An over abundance of bait in the water has been a contributing factor but moonless nights will be an assist for fishermen.

Barracuda — Plenty of "legals" in schools at Huntington Flats and Dana Point. Calico and sand bass — Good catches—with fish going to 8 lbs.—at Santa Ana River jetty down the coast to Dana Point.

BONITO—Water swarming with them in almost every location.

Halibut — Fair fishing but no heavy pressure at this time. Five to 6 lb. average size.

Yellowtail — Moving back into coastal kelp beds after being driven out into the channel by the red tide.

Club Holds Graduation

The Harbor Lite Dog Obedience Club recently held graduation of its two novice classes at Peck Park, 560 N. Western, San Pedro.

Trophy winners of the Wednesday night classes were: Mrs. Joan Espinosa, miniature poodle; Robert North, golden retriever; and George Navarette, Doberman pinscher.

Trophies won by the Saturday afternoon class included: First prize junior handler, De De Dawson, also winner of the junior handler trophy; Robert Stapleford, German shepherd; and Mrs. Jane Monteen, springer spaniel.

THE "E for Effort" trophies were awarded to Jim Wilcott, 7, all-American; and Albert Peacock, 5, toy poodle.

All handlers received graduation certificates. Mrs. Janette Potter and Steve Molott judged the graduation.
