Aerona Names McGrath Children at Television Course for Teachers

S. J. Kuderer, president of the Aerona Manufacturing Corp., has announced the appointment of Donald M. McGrath as vice president of the firm and head of Torrance operations. McGrath succeeds George M. Ebert, who recently resigned.

A resident of Palos Verdes Estates, McGrath was executive vice president of the astro structures division of Lear Siegler, an El Segundo firm, prior to his appointment with Aerona. McGrath attended Cornell University at Ithaca, N.Y., where he received a bachelor of science degree in administrative engineering.

Aerona, a major manufacturer of components used in the aerospace industry, formed its Torrance facility in 1958. The plant was enlarged when Longren Aircraft Co. was acquired in 1959.

Aerona also operates plants in Middletown, Ohio, and Baltimore, Md.

Children at Television Course for Teachers

Prelude to the Sept. 25-26 "Whoop-T-Do" benefit for the Garden Valley Training Center for Mentally Retarded Children, was Wednesday's party for the children at the center, 1119 W. Redondo Beach Blvd. North Gardena Kiwanis Club served as host.

Entertainment included Den Wessen and his white stallion, "Perfecto". Kiwanis Club President Bob Arnold treated the children to cake and ice cream.

Assisting the event were Mayors Albert Isen, Robert Kane of Gardena, and James Wedworth of Hawthorne.

North Gardena Kiwanis Club presented a $25 check in support of the up coming "Whoop-T-Do" which is the current united auxiliary bid to stimulate civic minded interest throughout the South-west area in securing adequate educational, vocational, and temporary-residence facilities for severely retarded children.

A televised course on channel 11, KTTV on "The Third R" for Teachers" will be among the education courses offered teachers in the South Bay, San Pedro and Long Beach areas this fall.

Scheduled for Mondays, 7-7:30 p. m., Oct. 5 through Jan. 25, the televised course investigates new approaches to arithmetic in elementary schools.

Class sessions for discussion and review of the television program, including assigned readings, mid-term and final examination, will be offered Thursday, Oct. 1—Jan. 28, 7-8 p. m., at North High School, 3620B West 182nd Street, Torrance.

TWENTY-NINE other education courses will be offered teachers in the area locations. The courses ranging from "The Education of Exceptional Children," to "Methods in Secondary Schools," will begin the week of Sept. 28.

Locations in which the courses will be held include: North High School; Fort MacArthur, San Pedro; Woodrow Wilson High School, Long Beach; Cooperative Nursery School, Rolling Hills; Edison School, Torrance; Yukon School, Torrance; Larch School, Lennox; Torrance High School; Dominguez High School, Compton; Hawthorne High School; and Mira Costa High School, Manhattan Beach.

Further information on the education course may be obtained from Extension offices at North High School, 3620B W. 182 St.
