Isen Calls for Total Support

This week has been proclaimed MR Week in Torrance by Mayor Albert Isen in support of the United Auxiliary "Whoop-T-Doo" Friday and Saturday to assist the Garden Valley Training Center for Mentally Retarded Children.

Entertainment at the "Whoop-T-Doo" is designed to include ages 3 to 93, with games, food booths, and star personalities.

BOZO, Banjo and Corky will be on hand for youngsters, while teenagers will be surrounded by Rock 'n Roll bands including Ed Whittington and his Melody Men and Jimmy C. and his Country Playboys. Records, through the courtesy of Ralph's Record Manufacturing and Sales Co. in Gardena, will be among the many prizes.

The Torrance YMCA Indian Maidens Yana tribe, will be featured Saturday as well as the all-time favorite, a cowboy and his horse, namely Den Weisen and Perfecto.

Entry blanks for the pet show are available at J. N. including

Hill and Co., 15223 S. Vermont Ave., Gardena. Many winners and many prizes are promised including a beautiful silver poodle pup, 7 months old.

On the pet show judging panel will be Supervisor Kenneth Hahn and Mayors Albert Isen, Robert Kane of Gardena, James Wedworth of Hawthorne, and Frank Hogen of Lawndale.

Gary Owens, KMPC disc jockey will interview 16 titled beauties Saturday evening.

Miss California, training services.

Teacher Gives Data on Home Economics

Mrs. Eleanor Stubbs, home economics teacher at South High School, participated on a panel at the Orange County District Home Economics Assn. meeting.

Mrs. Stubbs presented methods of attracting college-bound girls into the home economics program to explore career possibilities.

A home economics class has been arranged at South High School to survey careers and job possibilities while providing opportunity for specialized study.

RARE BIRDS

Specimens of many birds which once were plentiful but are now extinct or nearly so are on display at the Los Angeles County Museum. These include the passenger pigeon, heath hen, Carolina parakeet, Eskimo curlew, ivory-billed woodpecker, condor and whooping crane.

Going hunting? If you're a younger man or to impress your buddies, the Los Angeles County Heart Assn. urges.
