

Civic Center Probation Building Contract Set

Construction of the Harbor County Probation Department Building in the Torrance Civic Center will be undertaken by the Parr Contracting Co. of Culver City.

Bulldozers To Remove Bungalows

Bulldozers will shortly bring an era in history of the Torrance schools to an end.

The bulldozers will move onto the Meadow Park School grounds and tear down the temporary buildings — the bungalows which many Meadow Park teachers have come to love.

Hendricks and Pier Excavating Co. was awarded the contract for the removal of the bungalows. The firm bid $1,200 for the demolition job.

THE DISTRICT must remove the buildings under provisions of the State Loan Program. Under the terms of a board resolution, district facilities such as the Meadow Park bungalows must be removed when they are replaced with permanent facilities.

All of the facilities named in a board resolution of several years past have now been removed—with the exception of the Meadow Park bungalows.

THE SCHOOL district may remove light fixtures, plumbing, and other useable hardware before the bulldozers do their work.

The bungalows at the school have been used since Meadow Park School was first opened to handle the overflow from Seaside School.

Trout Stocked

Catchable-size trout were stocked in Crystal Lake and the East Fork of the San Gabriel River last week, according to the State Department of Fish and Game.

The Parr firm submitted the lowest of nine bids for the project with an offer of $322,500, which was $85,000 lower than the engineer's estimate for the job, according to Supervisor Kenneth Hahn.

The Probation Department Building will be built adjacent to the County Courthouse now being constructed in the city. A tunnel will connect the two structures.

The proposed building will contain 15,754 square feet and provide offices and conference rooms for 50 deputy probation officers, five senior deputy probation officers and a director.

Nat King Cole

Concert Ducats Still on Sale

Tickets for the Nat King Cole benefit Friday night at the Marineland Sea Arena are on sale at the oceanarium box office.

The famous popular singer will appear at 8:30 p.m. in a special one-night concert staged by the Manhattan Beach Lions Club. Proceeds of the musical evening will go toward the purchase of the Lions Club of a mobile eye examination station for the South Bay.

Cole, who has a long list of hit ballads, will sing many of the songs he has made famous, plus new ones. A 20-piece orchestra will back him.

Drafting of Legislation On Police Work Advocated

Recent decisions by high courts which tend to handcuff police in apprehending criminals have prompted Supervisor Kenneth Hahn to seek legislation which will improve law enforcement practices and insure society's protection under the law.

"Society must be protected in its rights against unnecessary harassment by the policeman. But, at the same time, it must provide the officer and the enforcement agencies the tools with which to work so a stable and law-abiding society can be maintained," Hahn said.

He is chairman of the Courts in Los Angeles County.

THE SUPERVISOR asked County Counsel to confer with the Sheriff, District Attorney, Grand Jury, and Presiding Judge of the Superior Court to draft legislation which can be introduced at the 1965 session of the State Legislature.

Hahn cited several decisions by State courts and the U.S. Supreme Court which make law enforcement's job more difficult by:

1. Preventing the search of an automobile trunk or even glove compartment for possible hidden narcotics.

2. Preventing the use of road blocks to search out the suspected criminal.

BMHS Students Get College Data

Students at Bishop Montgomery High School interested in attending the University of San Francisco, will be able to discuss the university's admission requirements and curriculum today at 11:30 a.m. with Robert A. Brahetta, university representative.

3. Preventing the use of overwhelming evidence of criminal conduct if it has been obtained by means not recognized in the law.

"These interpretations raise considerable question about the adequacy of our laws to permit the law enforcement officer to perform his duty," Hahn said.

Miss Judith Lynn Hagan, 1751 Elm Ave., was one of 57 students attending the University of California at Santa Barbara to earn a 4.0 (straight A) average last semester.

Dedication of New Assistance Office Planned

A new Bureau of Public Assistance office, which will serve portions of Torrance, will be dedicated Friday at 1:30 p.m. by Supervisor Kenneth Hahn and civic officials. The office is located at 111 N. Hawthorne Blvd., Hawthorne.

Other cities to be serviced include Hawthorne, Inglewood, Redondo Beach, Hermosa Beach, Manhattan Beach, El Segundo and portions of Gardena.
