Nativity Pantomime Will Open

"Wise Men Still Worship," South Bay Church of God Christmas presentation, will be staged nightly at 7 and 8 p.m. beginning Thursday, Dec. 17, and continuing through Dec. 23.

The Nativity scene recreation is presented annually by the church to call attention to the real significance of Christmas. Biblical characters are portrayed by members of the congregation and live animals are used in the scene.

Opening with a father reading "Twas the Night Before Christmas" to his daughter, the pantomime moves into the Nativity scene when the young girl asks, "Is this the full story of Christmas?"

There is no charge for admission to either nightly showing.

Sunday evening, Dec. 20, the Sanctuary Choir will present John W. Peterson's cantata "Born a King." Tonight, the choir will perform Peterson's cantata "Love Transcending," with soloists Patti Goodwin, Deborah Jones, Linda Therrio, and Carol Tierney. Bob Wallace will narrate the cantata.
