Redondo Seahawks Take Second Major Tournament

"One disadvantage of playing Mira Costa four or five times during the year is the law of averages is bound to catch up with us."
This was the comment offered by Coach Rex Hughes after his Redondo Seahawks defeated the Mustangs for a tournament championship for the second time in three weeks, Redondo won, 65-49, in the Beverly Hills finals to repeat an earlier 64-50 triumph in the Pacific Shores Tournament.

The Seahawks have extended their all-winning season to nine games and carry it into the Bay League season in January. They meet Mira Costa twice in league play. Victory in the Beverly Hills Tournament was the first title in this event for Redondo in 23 years. The unbeaten 9-game streak is another unprecedented achievement in the school's history.

Torrance duplicated its Pacific Shores consolation victory by turning back Compton, 77-62, in the Beverly swim gym. Bob Brennan scored the most points in a single game (31) against the namesake Tartars. North split its four games, settling for sixth place against Bellflower, 74-63.

Warrior Preps Bag 60-51 Win

An erratic West High basketball team defeated St. Bernard's, 60-51 yesterday. The non-league game was played before a small, but noisy crowd of vacationing students in the West High gymnasium.

Big John Cochran, a 6-2 senior, provided the bright spot for an otherwise sloppy performance. Cochran pulled in 24 rebounds while scoring 14 points on a pair of free throws and six field goals. Forward John Marsden was high point man for West, hitting on seven field goals and a single free throw for 15 points. The Warriors recorded fewer than usual fouls, but couldn't hang onto the ball on several occasions.

Both teams were cold from the foul line. West hit 8 of 24, while the Vikings got 9 of 17. Cochran, despite his outstanding defensive effort, missed eight free throws.

ROGER FOLSOM
Third Year Coach

Knights Anxious To Use New Gym

By HENRY BURKE
Press-Herald Sports Editor
For a basketball team that practices on outdoor hardtop and plays topnotch high schools in their opponents' gyms game-after-game, the Bishop Montgomery Knights do a creditable job.

Coach Roger Folsom is spending a lot of time lately just peeking around the corner from his desk to the school's new gymnasium nearing completion.

Craftsmen put down the hardwood floor the other day, and with the rains interfering with practice, he was particularly anxious for the day the Knights would move indoors permanently.

Folsom has been at Montgomery for three years. He was forced to start this season with four starters gone from last year's fourth place finisher in the Camino Real League.

Back, though, is Bill Brown, considered by Folsom the best guard in the league.

Other than Brown the Knights are inexperienced. John Pleick, the lanky 6-foot, 7-inch center, is a sophomore with a great future ahead of him, according to Folsom.

Rounding out the team's starting unit are Irl Davis, a standout junior guard; and forwards Bob Revers and Mike Gray.

A school policy which limits athletes to two sports activities during the school year costs Bishop Montgomery a chance to bolster its varsity basketball team by one or two good players.

Coach Folsom named Danny Graham, an outstanding football and baseball player, as one boy in particular who could have helped the basketball team this season.

Folsom said the 2-sport rule affects only a hand full of varsity and lightweight players and should be reconsidered for next year.

Meanwhile, Folsom is primarily concerned with having use of the school gym soon, at least during part of the Camino Real League season in January.
