Trips Set In Course For Adults

Trips to the theater to view a classic and a modern drama will highlight a course in literature and composition to be offered this fall by Torrance Evening High School department of adult education.

Enrollees in the twice-weekly course, which meets from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays at Torrance High School beginning Sept. 21, will have an opportunity to further their knowledge of Great American and English classics and modern literature through selected readings, discussions, films, and recordings, as well as the theatre trips.

In addition to studying the novel, short story, poetry, drama, and essay, students will practice writing skills by basing compositions on the literature and authors studied in class.

Teacher will be Ronald Rudolph. Persons desiring further information are asked to contact the adult education office before 5 p.m. at 328-8080, ext. 295, or after 6 p.m. at 328-9206.

Credit-earning students must be counseled into the class. Others wishing to attend may register with the instructor the first night the class meets.

Army Pfc. Bloss E. Trujillo, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max C. Trujillo of 1704 Carlson Lane, Redondo Beach, is participating in a two-week field training exercise held on the Baumholder ranges in Germany.

During the exercise Trujillo, a radio teletype operator in the 12th Engineer Battalion, 8th Infantry Division, will qualify with his M-14 rifle. Each company will be responsible for setting up several bridges, and will be tested to see how they react under simulated combat conditions.

He entered the Army in February, 1964, completed basic training at Fort Ord, Calif., and arrived overseas last November.

Youth Corps Member Gets Steady Job With Goodwill

When Esther Madrigal, 19923 Hawthorne Ave., dropped out of the eleventh grade at West High School she intended to get a job and help support her mother. Seven months of seasonal work was all that she found until the Neighborhood Youth Corps came along.

After screening at the California State Employment Service in Wilmington she was sent to the Goodwill Industries in Long Beach, which provides over 60 job stations, more than any other non-profit organization participating in the Youth Corps program. She was to work 20 hours per week at some job that would not take work away from a regular Goodwill employee. She was to receive job training that would help get her permanent employment.

Charles Walz, Goodwill's training director, thought she might have a potential in sales, so he asked for an evaluation of her ability. Howard Gray, in charge of testing, gave her a battery of tests that showed that she was average or above in the traits that should make a good sales person.

On the basis of these tests she was put to work in the Goodwill Store at 317 Torrance Blvd. in Redondo Beach. Since Goodwill Store employees are not necessarily handicapped she was given the first opening that came for full-time employment and is now a regular Goodwill sales girl at the Redondo Store.
