Women's News Deadline

News items to appear in the Women's Section, Torrance Press-Herald Wednesday edition, should be submitted on Friday. Short items will still be accepted until Monday noon.

Articles for the Sunday edition are requested Wednesday morning and not later than Thursday noon.

With the new club and social year beginning, press chairmen of all organizations are asked to cooperate with the deadline schedule.

For appointments with the photographer, the women's editor of the Press-Herald should be called ten days in advance of the requested picture appointment.

Society to Begin Year Engagement

Holding their first board meeting, the newly-elected Altar Society officers of the Church of the Nativity planned an interesting and productive year of activities.

Installed in June at the traditional, candlelight ceremony were Mmes. Rudy Hanke, president; Alice Cayer, vice president; Raymond Sullivan, treasurer; and Jack Wolinsky, secretary. New chairmen appointed by the board are Mmes. Lyle L. O'Hara, publicity; Loren Lederhos, welcome; and John McVey, September guild chairman.

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. M. J. Boudreaux, members of the Altar Society are already preparing for the semi-annual rummage sale to be held in November. This sale has been a successful project of the Society for over twenty years. Members are also preparing for the sale of a cookbook featuring recipes from Women's Club leaders in California as well as many prized recipes of the Society members.

Following the summer vacation the first meeting of the Altar Society will be held Tuesday, Sept. 21, at 8 p.m. in the Nativity Annex. All members are urged to attend.

Miss Susan Engstrom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Engstrom, 1750 W. 244th St., Lomita, will be married to James Halbert on Sept. 25.

The engagement and wedding plans of their daughter were announced at a party for family and close friends given by Mr. and Mrs. Engstrom on Sunday evening, Sept. 12 at their home.

The future bride attended Torrance High School and is employed at the Newberry Store in Palos Verdes.

Her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Halbert, 517 E. 213th St., Torrance, attended Banning High School and Harbor Junior College. He is employed by Harvey Aluminum Co.
