

PV Players Score Hit With 'Goodbye Charlie'

"Goodbye Charlie," Palos Verdes Players' season opener, currently is playing to capacity audiences at the Palos Verdes Playhouse, 2514 Via Tejon, Malaga Cove Plaza.

The lusty, riotous comedy features Patricia Lester, Paul Teschke, and Rita Willens. Dick Jordahl directs the production.

Critics have hailed Miss Lester, who stars as Charlie, for "having scored a personal

Germany Topic of Lecture

"Germany, Key to Europe," is the topic for an illustrated lecture to be offered Monday evening by the South Bay Adult School, according to F. A. Appelgate, principal.

Siegfried Ringwald, dean of liberal arts and humanities at Long Beach City College, will discuss Germany and show color slides to illustrate his lecture. Ringwald has served as an exchange professor in Germany and lectured at the University of Kiel under a Fulbright grant. He has lived and traveled extensively in Europe, the Middle East, and Asia.

The lecture is the third of a four-part series on the general theme, "Europe — The New Era." The final lecture, slated Oct. 25, will be on Italy and Spain.

The program will begin at 7:30 at the Redondo Union High School Auditorium, Pacific Coast Highway and Diamond Street.

Isen Urges Support of Fund Drive

Businessmen and residents of Torrance have been urged to "volunteer their best efforts" in the current United Crusade fund-raising drive by Mayor Albert Isen.

Isen made the appeal as he proclaimed Oct. 15 through Nov. 15 as "United Crusade Month" in Torrance. He asked "all citizens to volunteer their best efforts to this appeal and increase their voluntary contributions so the agencies and services that depend on the United Way and the American Red Cross for their support can continue to meet the needs of this community."

United Crusade, a partnership appeal of United Way and the American Red Cross, currently is conducting its second annual fund raising campaign. Funds raised during the drive will be used to support numerous Red Cross services and 244 health, welfare, and youth services of the United Way.

Board Sets Meeting at West High

The Torrance Board of Education will meet at West High School Monday evening for the second in a series of meetings to be held at 7:30.

Purpose of taking meetings to high schools, according to Mrs. Kenneth Watts, board president, is to enable residents to attend meetings in their immediate neighborhood.

Earlier this fall, board members met at South High. Additional meetings are scheduled for Nov. 15 at North High and Jan. 17 at Torrance High.

All board meetings are open to the public. Mrs. Watts pointed out. Trustees usually meet at the district office, 2335 Plaza Del Amo. Meetings are held the first and third Monday of every month.

Agendas of business to be discussed are available at city library branches on the Friday preceding each meeting.

Area Youth On College Quiz Team

Peter Gregora of Torrance will be one of the four University of Redlands students on the General Electric College Bowl this Sunday when Redlands challenges three-time winner Dickinson College.

The half-hour quiz contest will be broadcast at 5:30 p.m. on KNBC, Channel 4.

Other members of the Redlands team include Jackson Parham of Manteca, Calif., John Yeomans of Los Angeles, and Joe Lynn of Redlands. Team coach Dr. William Main, professor of English, and alternate Tim Bollinger of Tucson, Ariz., will make the trip to New York with the team.

The University of Redlands is a Baptist liberal arts college.

Funds for Narbonne Work Voted

The Board of Supervisors has allocated $75,000 to the City of Lomita for improvement of Narbonne Avenue.

Board Chairman Burton W. Chace said the work will include widening of the street from two to four lanes between 240th and 248th streets in Lomita.

In addition, traffic control signals will be modified at the Lomita Boulevard intersection.

When completed, the project will provide for traffic capacity of 26,000 vehicles daily, Chace said. The work is scheduled to begin next spring.

Area Youth Speaks at JA Rally

North High School senior Scott Hanlon was one of the speakers at the Junior Achievement "Blast-Off" rally held in Los Angeles Thursday. The dinner meeting marked the beginning of the JA's 12th year in Southern California and the end of an intensive three-week training program for the adult advisers who will guide, 3,500 teenagers in the organization and operation of miniature corporations.

Hanlon, a third year achiever and delegate to the recent Nation Achievers Conference, told the assembled businessmen their job was highly important because they were involved "... in the training of youth to assume the leadership of America and to be self-convinced advocates of the private enterprise system."

Junior Achievement is a national, non-profit, business-sponsored program of economic experience for teenagers. More than 100,000 high school students participated in the program this past year.

Two Major Projects Under Way

Work will begin soon on the improvement and development of 223rd Street between Main Street and Avalon Boulevard and one of the most modern and safe highways in the County, Supervisor Kenneth Hahn announced today.

Hahn said a $355,471 contract has been awarded to the Strecker Construction Co. for the job, which will provide another fully-curbed, six-lane highway for the growing Carson area.

The Strecker firm was the lowest of seven bidders. Bids ranged to a high of $384,617.

IN A COMPANION action, the Board of Supervisors approved plans and specifications for the improvement of 223rd Street between Avalon Boulevard and Wilmington Avenue.

Scheduled for completion in April, 1966, work on the section between Main and Avalon will consist of reconstructing and widening the existing predominantly two-lane roadway.

Traffic signals will be upgraded at the Main Street and Avalon Boulevard intersections and signals will be installed at the Dolores Street and Grace Avenue intersections with 223rd Street.

DURING construction, a minimum of one traffic lane in each direction will be maintained on 223rd Street. Northbound traffic on Main Street may be reduced to one lane, although southbound traffic will be undisturbed.

All other streets intersecting 223rd Street may be closed from time to time, Hahn reported.

Lomita Council Upholds Commission on New Bar

Lomita City Councilmen upheld a Planning Commission decision denying a conditional use permit for a proposed bar at 24412 Crenshaw Blvd.

Supervision of the parks and recreation department and the city's Parks Commission was assigned to Councilman Bill Hammond.

HE SAID legislators clearly intended that the campus be in the area near Los Angeles International Airport and added the Dominguez site "is closest to the airport."

The other two sites are Friendship Park in San Pedro and a site split between Torrance and Rolling Hills Estates near the southwest corner of Pacific Coast Highway and Crenshaw Boulevard.

Representatives of area communities have urged trustees to select the Torrance site, and generally have favored the San Pedro location if problems at the Torrance site are unsurmountable.

THERE HAVE been hints a decision might be postponed for 30 to 60 days to permit extensive geological tests at all three sites.

Representatives of several groups — including backers of all three sites — are expected to testify before the Campus Planning, Building and Grounds Committee today.

COMPARE NOTES... Paul Galan, Kathy Knippel, and David Hermeyer, all students at Bishop Montgomery High School, discuss their experiences during the summer. Paul took courses in digital computers and trigonometry at El Camino, while David studied oceanography at UCLA. Kathy attended San Diego State College, where she studied mathematics during the summer.

Montgomery High Students Take College Courses During Summer

Science, math, and art courses replaced the usual vacation activities for 14 Bishop Montgomery High School students last summer.

Two of the 14 students studied under National Science Foundation scholarships. They were Davis Hermeyer, who attended the University of California at Los Angeles to study oceanography, and Kathy Knippel, who studied mathematics at San Diego State College.

The remaining students were enrolled in advanced placement courses for college credit at El Camino and other colleges.

Eight Montgomery students enrolled at El Camino included John Redding, Richard Kallmeyer, Deanna Phippen, Sandra Heaston, Paul Galan, and Marianne Donohue, who studied digital computers. Galan also enrolled in a trigonometry course and Barbara Rabel attended a statistics and probability class.

Laurie Brass attended Loyola University where she enrolled in an advanced biology class, while Mary Ann Buckley and Susan Osterman took classes in photography and three-dimensional forms at Mount St. Mary's College. Tim Harris enrolled at the San Francis School of Fine Arts.
