Assignment TV

By TERRENCE O'FLAHERTY

Last July a wedding took place that should give encouragement to all housekeepers across the land who dream of moving from the maid's quarters to the master bedroom. I am referring to "The Farmer's Daughter."

Katy the Scandinavian housekeeper for Congressman Glenn Morley has been happily managing all the domestic chores — she has been sharing his address, his congressional district and everything else the network censors deem prudent. But this fall ABC will make an honest woman of the Farmer's Daughter and an honest man of the congressman, which isn't particularly easy, particularly with a politician.

It is Hollywood's wedding of the year but it won't be televised until Nov. 1 with Inger Stevens as the bride. But in TV shows it is not just enough to get married. It must be publicized also.

Well, how about someone in Washington giving the stars a real live reception in the Nation's Capitol?

Would Perle Mesta do it? Would she?

Well, now we all know that Mrs. Mesta would do anything short of nude swimming to attract attention.

Put your mind at rest, dear readers, Mrs. Mesta has accepted.

FOR THOSE who don't concern themselves with such trivia Mrs. Mesta has been Washington's tireless party giver for several Administrations and the only female in the capital who is happy to wear the title "party girl."

She has been particularly effective during the corpnone Administrations such as Truman's and the one currently enjoying the favor of a puzzled and concerned electorate. The Kennedys ignored her.

One of the dates circled on the Mesta calendar is Nov. 1, when she will hold a wedding reception for Congressman and Mrs. Morley.

The former is played by the most forgotten actor on the American Broadcasting Company's television schedules, William Windom.

Although Mrs. Mesta's extravaganzas are traditionally given a price tag, it is questionable if the Washington reception will cost as much as the television wedding filmed several weeks ago at a cost of $75,000.

WHEN IT COMES to weddings, Hollywood is a paradox. Its real life ceremonies are frequently conducted by the nearest Justice of the Peace with a former husband acting as the best man. On the screen they are lavish affairs involving acres of artificial white gladiolas and all the satin drygoods in the San Fernando Valley.

Katy and her television Congressman were married in a home wedding ceremony—a tricky device to avoid offending prospective consumers who might be members of another religious persuasion.

According to the ABC costume designer, the bride's dress cost $1,200 and the bridesmaids wore royal blue velvet with aqua satin skirts and matching petal head-dresses.

Sherbets Rate High As Treats

Sherbets hit the spot when you're looking for refreshing desserts to serve on hot Autumn days. They score again when served after heavy meals. (Sherbets are a little richer than ices, but not quite as hearty as ice creams.) And their fruity flavor makes them perfect follow-ups for menus that feature highly-seasoned dishes.

You'll be particularly proud to serve luscious sherbets that you make in the freezer section of your refrigerator or in your home freezer. Plan on about two hours for freezing and then allow an extra few hours for the flavor to mellow.

FREEZE QUICKLY

Select a recipe that is designed for freezing without constant stirring. And be sure to freeze the mixture quickly.

Controls on freezing sections that maintain a temperature close to zero won't need to be changed. Controls on other units should be set to the coldest position about an hour before a frozen dessert is mixed and returned to the normal setting when it is partly frozen.

LOGANBERRY SHERBET

- 1 pg. lemon flavored gela- 2 C. loganberry juice
- tin 1 Tbsp. Lemon juice
- 2 C. hot water 2 egg whites
- 1/2 C. sugar 1/4 tsp. salt

Set refrigerator cold control to coldest position. Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add sugar and fruit juices. Cool, then freeze until mushy. Add egg whites and salt. Beat well. Freeze. Return cold control to normal setting.

CREAMY LEMON SHERBET

- 2 tsp. gelatin 3/4 C. lemon juice
- 2 C. milk 2 egg whites
- 1 C. sugar 1/4 tsp. salt

Set refrigerator cold control to coldest position. Soak gelatin in 1/2 C. milk. Scald remaining milk with sugar. Dissolve gelatin in this mixture. Cool. Add lemon juice slowly. Freeze until mushy. Add unbeaten egg whites and salt. Beat well. (Work quickly so the mixture won't have time to melt.) Finish freezing. Reset cold control to the normal setting.

BUTTERMILK SHERBET

- 2 C. buttermilk 2 egg whites
- 1/2 C. sugar 1 1/2 tsp. vanilla
- 1 C. crushed pineapple 1/4 tsp. salt

Set refrigerator cold control to coldest position. combine buttermilk, sugar and pineapple, which has been partially drained. Stir to dissolve sugar. Freeze until mushy. Add unbeaten egg whites, vanilla and salt. Quickly beat until light and fluffy. Finish freezing. Return cold control to normal.
