Hollywood Reporter

By Mike Connolly

Dear Mike C.: Please tell me about Ringo and Paul. — Valerie Stroker, Pampa, Texas.

Dear Valerie and all you other Beatlebuffs: I CAN'T devote this column to The Beatles and I DON'T print addresses but I'm breaking a rule. For all information about the Liverpool Larks (and this is the only time I will print this) write to them at 13 Monmouth Street, London W.C. 2, England. And don't say I'm not your buddy because that's top-secret address.

Dear Mike: Which monster show, "The Addams Family" or "The Munsters," is getting the best ratings on TV so far? — Mike Fruitman, Newton, Mass.

Dear Mike: "Addams" is topping its rival but both are doing well enough to remain on the beam next season.

Sir: Now that Leslie Caron is divorced from Peter Hall, when will she marry Warren Beatty? — Frank Beck, Warwick, N.Y.

Dear Frank: The couple may make a liar out of me any edition but the latest is there's another Leslie in Warren's life — only she spells it Lesley Ann Warren and they met in Manhattan where she's been starring in "Dra! the Cat!" and one thing led to another.

Dear Mike: I'm mad about Gardner McKay, even though we don't see much of him on TV these days. I hope Barbara Bouchet knows how lucky she is to get a yump hunkaman like Gard! — Darlene Glaub, Louisville, Ky.

Dear Darlene: You must be reading some old fan mags. Barbara dropped her option on Gard the same day Producer Otto Preminger picked up her option for another picture to follow "In Harm's Way."

Dear Mike: Please state to which faith Bob Hope belongs. — Mrs. H. P. B., Glendora, Calif.

Dear Mrs. B.: He is an Episcopalian.

Mike C.: Honestly, I'm not checking up on you but your column says Margaret Truman isn't doing a TV show and another says she is. — Mrs. Arthur E. Davids, Manchester, Vt.

Dear Mrs. Davids: I bow my head in shame. I was on vacation when Margaret got that one-month TV interview show in New York and it has taken me all this time since my return to catch up with the network

TV news, let alone the local shows.

Dear Mike: When Fred Gwynne isn't playing "Her-man," is he really ten feet tall? — Gene Cormier, Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Gene: He's going-on-seven but they make him look taller by digging holes for the other actors on "The Munsters" to stand in.

Dear Sir: If our State Department will allow "Porgy and Bess" to play Moscow, why doesn't it send "Hello, Dolly" over there too? It's every bit as rip-roarin' and All-American show as "Porgy" and I think the Russians would love it — and us for sending it. — Jerry Hughes, Welch, Okla.

Dear Jerry: The Russians refused the company starring Mary Martin, not because they have anything against Mary but because a member of the Soviet Embassy in Washington caught Carol Channing in the Broadway show. It will play Moscow. And it will star Carol.

Dear Mike: What in the world has happened to that fine actress, Jane Wyman? — Harvey Levine, Syracuse, N.Y.

Dear Harvey: She was emotionally upset after divorcing orchestra leader Freddie Karger the second time. She's back in action now, shooting a "Chrysler Theatre" segment called "When Hell Froze" at Universal.

Dear Mr. C.: When did the late Rudolph Valentino make a personal appearance in Houston? What has happened to Mary Astor and Norma Shearer? Did Charles Farrell and Janet Gaynor ever get married? So many of use fans, you know have more interest in the stars of the past than in those of the present, strange as it may seem to others — or who of us will admit we're past 50? — J. H. Nevasota, Texas.

Dear J. H.: You'll have to answer that last question yourself. From the top, Rudy's p.a. date was 1926, Mary Astor is writing a novel, Norma Shearer is living in happy (and wealthy) retirement here in Los Angeles as the wife of her former ski instructor, married Virginia Valli, and Janet married producer Paul Gregory after the death of her first husband, designer Gilbert Adrian. There never was a Farrell-Gaynor marriage — nor even a romance.

(Mike Connolly will try to answer your questions in his column. He gives no personal replies by mail.)

Garden Checklist

1. This is the month to plant perennials. Visit your nursery for healthy seedlings of Shasta Daisies, gazanias, delphiniums, primroses, phlox, coral bells and other perennials in flats.
2. Prune evergreen vines such as purple trumpet vine, star jasmine, Hall's honeysuckle and ivy. Evergreen clematis should be pruned only lightly as it will bloom in late winter or early spring on wood produced this summer.
3. Remove summer annuals when they finish flowering. Incorporate rotted manure, peat moss, or sawdust with the soil to prepare it for planting spring flowering bulbs and winter annuals.
4. Most spring flowering bulbs go into the ground this month. Select yours as soon as possible. Plant crocus by the dozen for early spring bloom. Tuck them against rocks, around young trees, or into evergreen ground covers such as dwarf periwinkle.
5. This is an excellent time to put in new lawns. Your local nurseryman can help you choose the right seed mixture and provide you with tools and directions.
6. Garden iris should be planted now so that they will be well established before winter. Tall bearded iris, as well as Japanese and Siberian types are available in rich new colors.
7. Buy and plant Dutch iris bulbs now for lovely blue, violet or yellow blooms that look almost like orchids. Put them three inches deep and about four inches apart in light soil.
