Plans for the seventh annual Christmas Lighting Display Contest, sponsored by the Torrance Junior Chamber of Commerce, were announced today by John Corsaut, chairman for the Jaycees.

Awards will be presented in a religious and a general display division, Corsaut said. Trophies were donated by a Torrance firm.

First and second place winners in each division will receive engraved trophies. All winners will be guests of the Junior Chamber of Commerce for dinner at the general membership meeting in January.

Entry blanks, which may be found in today's editions of the Press-Herald, must be postmarked not later than Saturday, Dec. 18, at midnight. Judging will be done next Tuesday. Entries should be mailed to the Torrance Jaycees Project Chairman, 4118 W. 176th St., Torrance.

Further information may be obtained by calling Corsaut at 370-2103.

Campus Hairstylists Compete for Honors

Leading hairstylists at El Camino College were named today by Mrs. Grace Erickson, cosmetology instructor.

Winning first place in their respective divisions were Miss Pamela Dye, seniors, Miss Celes Floyd, juniors, and Miss Joyce Funke, alumni.

Miss Dye and Miss Floyd are residents of Torrance and Mrs. Funke lives in Gardena.

More than 250 persons attended the hair styling competition last week. For the first time, winning entries were presented in the Campus Theater.

Second and third place honors in the senior division were won by Miss Lana Hollis and Miss Sandra Metcalf, both of Torrance.

Runners-up in the junior division were Mrs. Ann Bartusch and Linda Polliard, both of Torrance. Lorn Wilcox, Hawthorne, and Mrs. Pauline Sagrillo, Torrance, were awarded second and third places in the alumni competition.

Judges for the contest were Mrs. Nancy Nemick of West Los Angeles, Mrs. Toshi Otsu of Gardena, and Hal Trujillo of Redondo Beach. Mrs. Nemick is a former instructor in cosmetology at El Camino College, and each of the three is actively engaged in the field of hair styling.

DISCUSS CONTEST . . . John Corsaut, chairman of the Torrance Junior Chamber of Commerce annual Christmas Lighting Display Contest, discusses rules of the contest with Al Nystrom, who will serve as a judge. The contest is open to all Torrance residents. Prizes will be awarded in a religious and a general display division. Deadline for entries is midnight Saturday.
