Juniors See Film On Federation; Aid Clinic

At the January business meeting of the Torrance Woman's Club, a film entitled "Unity in Divinity" explaining the founding and beginning of women's clubs in this country, was viewed by the members, after which followed a question and answer period.

Approximately 1870, a group of farsighted women saw the need for a woman's organization because at that time, women were excluded from politics, clubs and many other activities. After a few years, the group became known as the General Federation of Women's Clubs, including all federated clubs in this country and eventually in the world.
