

Kiwanis Clubs Honor Outstanding Citizens

Three outstanding Harbor area citizens were honored by Kiwanis Clubs from Wilmington, San Pedro, and Lomita at the 12th Scholarship Recognition Banquet at Harbor College.

Honored by the Kiwanis Clubs were Andrew P. Marinovich of San Pedro, Peter Steinmann of Wilmington, and H. P. Osborne Sr. of Lomita.

Marinovich, a certified public accountant, teaches an accounting course in the Harbor College Evening Division and at the University of Southern California. Ben Karmelich, past president of the San Pedro Kiwanis Club, presented the award.

STEINMANN is manager of the Wilmington branch of the Crocker-Citizens National Bank. He also is president of the Wilmington Kiwanis Club.

which hosted the Scholarship Recognition gathering.

Osborne, honored by the Lomita Kiwanis Club, has long been active in civic affairs. He is a 30-year member of the Lomita club and holds perfect attendance pins for 20 of the 30 years. Don McKnight presented the award.

SCHOLARSHIP awards, presented by the Associated Students of Harbor College, were given to Jeannette Thaw, Danny Alford, Arlene Sasaki, Boyd Harrison, Tim McClung, Barbara Turton, Karen Jensen, Mavis Wilson, George McKewen, and Deborah Teagardin. JoRae Zuckerman, coordinator of student activities, made the presentations.

Also presented certificates were students named on the President's Honor Roll, members of Alpha Gamma Sigma scholarship group, and the members of the Tars and Spars service groups.

NEW PRESIDENT... Kenneth E. Olson, right, is congratulated by Nels T. Herbranson, outgoing president of the Southern California Glass Management. Olson, president of Olson Glass Co. which is headquartered here, was installed as the 1966 president of the glass industry organization during the annual membership meeting.

State College Society Draws on EC Faculty

Four representatives of the El Camino College instructional and administrative staffs currently serve in positions of leadership with the California Junior College Association.

Nearly 80 junior colleges within the state are affiliated with the association, whose president is Dr. Edward Simonson of Bakersfield. Executive secretary of the organization is Dr. Henry T. Tyler of Modesto.

Henry Mansfield Jr., dean of the division of mathematics and engineering at El Camino, is a member of the engineering liaison committee. The professional group is closely identified with the annual articulation conference, through which representatives of junior colleges, the California State Colleges and the University of California meet to maintain maximum understanding and resolve problems of articulation as they arise.

THE DEAN, a resident of Redondo Beach, is serving a term which concludes in June, 1967.

A member of a seven-man special committee on international education is Dr. Stuart E. Marsee of Torrance, president of El Camino College. The committee is engaged in a study of problems and opportunities for California junior colleges in the education of students from other countries.

Miss Helen E. Rodgers, head librarian at El Camino College and also a resident of Torrance, is a member of the committee on curriculum and instruction.

CHAIRMAN of the standing committee on public relations is a Redondo Beach resident, W. A. Kamrath, coordinator of public information at El Camino College. His three-year committee assignment will terminate in 1968.

Nearly 200 persons are currently serving on more than 30 committees of C.J.C.A. The association will conduct its spring conference in Bakersfield April 4 and 5.

State Landmarks Listed in Book

Publication of a 116-page revised and illustrated booklet on California's Historical Landmarks was announced today by Fred L. Jones, state parks and recreation director.

The booklet, which lists, locates, and describes 802 registered landmarks and 34 state parks and monuments, may be purchased for $1 by writing to the Hearst Tour Office, Department of Parks and Recreation, 1418 Ninth St., Sacramento 95814.

USC Institute Acquires Rare Communist Materials

Two rare, rich research collections for the study of communism have just been acquired by the Research Institute on Communist Strategy and Propaganda, School of International Relations, University of Southern California.

The first contains several thousand items—books, periodicals (including some complete runs), government documents, pamphlets and leaflets—published by the Communist Party of the United States as well as by several non-communist organizations. In addition, the collection contains research monographs and other standard works in the field.

The material was systematically collected over some 35 years by the late Edward H. Gibbons, former newspaperman and co-publisher of Alert, a monthly magazine which analyzed and reported on subversive activity, and consultant to numerous congressional committees and other organizations concerned with the problem of communism.

HIS WIDOW, Mrs. Louise Gibbons, stated that after requests from several institutions and individuals, she decided to place the collection at USC to insure continued use of the material by students and researchers of this and coming generations as a guide and case study of the communist threat and challenge.

Major categories in the Gibbons collection, other than books, include: Periodicals, non-communist and communist—"The Worker" and the "People's World" in the United States, the defunct "World Marxist Review," "The U.S.S.R." (now "Soviet Life"). U.S. and foreign government documents including hearings before various U.S. congressional committees which have studied the problems of communism, the reports of the (Canadian) Royal Commission exposing communist espionage, the reports of committees on un-American activities of various states; several thousand pamphlets, most of them no longer available, of communist and non-communist origin dealing with the important issues of our times.

THE SECOND collection comprises several hundred highly selected volumes on the Soviet Union and world communism assembled by the late Charles Malamuth, formerly senior research associate of the USC Institute. His widow, Rene Malamuth, in making the presentation said, "Charles would be pleased to know that his volumes are available to other students of the field, especially at the Institute where he had given so much of his interest and effort."

Volumes in the Malamuth collection range from his own annotated translation of Trotsky's posthumous biography of Stalin to many out-of-print volumes, a number of them in Russian, dealing with communism in theory and practice. Included are many of the published works of Josef Stalin.

New Nurses Get Caps At Harbor

Fourteen nursing students at Harbor College received their caps and the Maltese Cross insignia of a graduate vocational nurse during graduation ceremonies.

A total of 58 new vocational nurses received their caps indicating they have completed the first semester of training, during the ceremonies.

Roberta Lindberg, chairman of the nursing division at the college, and Louise Hawley, president of Upsilon Nu Sigma, vocational nursing sorority, awarded caps.

The 14 graduate vocational nurses, who are now eligible to take their state licensing examinations, include: Beth Minnick, Donna Reich, and Barbara J. Turton of Torrance; Jeannette Lupin and Marjorie M. Meditz of Lomita; Sharon Benson and Jessie M. Neumann of Gardena; Ann Winn of Harbor City; Nancy Schlotterbeck of Los Angeles; Linda Johnson of Wilmington; Diane Browning of South Shores; Emily L. Leichter of Hawthorne; and Doris Griffiths and Louise Hawley of Manhattan Beach.

County to Study Zoning Request

A request for residential and commercial zoning on a 19-acre parcel of land near Vermont Avenue and Sepulveda Boulevard has been taken under submission by the Regional Planning Commission.

California Hawaiian Builders, 1825 W. Lomita Blvd., is seeking a change of zone from M-2 to R-1 and C-4 for the property.

County to Study Zoning Request

A request for residential and commercial zoning on a 19-acre parcel of land near Vermont Avenue and Sepulveda Boulevard has been taken under submission by the Regional Planning Commission.

California Hawaiian Builders, 1825 W. Lomita Blvd., is seeking a change of zone from M-2 to R-1 and C-4 for the property.

Test Scores To Be Topic Of Meeting

Parents of 9th and 11th grade students at Torrance High School have been invited to attend a special meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. to discuss the low Tests of Educational Development.

The tests were administered to all 9th and 11th grade students last October as required under state law. Results of the tests are now available, according to Dr. Harold Widney, assistant principal at Torrance High. Dr. Widney will explain to parents the meaning of test scores and give some tips on interpreting test results at Wednesday's meeting.

The session will be held in the modern dance room of the girls' gymnasium.

Band Slates Concert at North High

North High School's Concert Band will present its seventh annual Pops Concert Thursday evening in the school gymnasium.

Tickets for the concert, which begins at 8 p.m., will be on sale at the door. Adults will be admitted for 50 cents and students may purchase tickets for 25 cents.

Haydn's "Concerto for Trumpet" with Gene Ruecker will be featured, according to Robert L. Jones, band director.

Met Auditions Slated Today

Soprano Rise Stevens and two officials of the Metropolitan Opera will judge the Western Regional Audition Finals today at the University of Southern California's Bovard Auditorium, beginning at 8 p.m.

Michael Manuel, co-manager of the National Company, and John Gutman, assistant general manager, will join Miss Stevens for the judging.

The regional winner will compete in the national semifinals the week of March 27 in New York City.

Ann Landers Says

Any Other Approach Is Sheer Nonsense

Dear Ann Landers: We have two teenage children whose grades range from fair to poor. Every teacher they have had in the last four years has said the same thing: "Very bright — but not working up to ability."

I was a teacher myself so I know all about kids who don't work up to their ability. My husband is a teacher, too, but he says he rides herd on kids all day and he wants to relax when he comes home.

Last week I hit on a solution. I decided from 7:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. would be "study hour." During this time there would be no stereo, no radio, no TV and no telephoning. All members of the family would study together.

Last night my husband said the plan was crazy and that I should make the kids have their study hour before he gets home at 5:00 p.m. What do you think of a father who doesn't want to sacrifice this hour to help his children? — THE WITCH FROM WICHITA.

read another letter in your column from a grandmother who complains because her married children depend on her to baby-sit, nurse their sick kids and even bake for their parties. I wonder if these grannies know why they are imposed on?

I was the only child of parents who died young. My husband was the second son in a family of ten. So you see there was no help from either side. We learned to depend on ourselves and we raised our five children to depend on themselves.

We have 14 grandchildren and nobody borrows money from us or tries to move into our house or dumps their youngsters on us when they want to travel. Whatever we offer to do is greatly appreciated and we enjoy doing it. I believe independence is all in the upbringing. — MOTHER OF A FINE BROOD.

Dear Mother: So do I. Not only are you better off but your children are better off, too — and so are THEIR children. Congratulations for a job well done.

Dear Ann Landers: Our daughter married at an early age. Rita picked up a bum who treated her like dirt. We were all relieved when she divorced him.

Now Rita is engaged to a very fine young man and we are all happy for her and the children. The problem is that her future in-laws want a big wedding.

All our relatives out-did themselves with beautiful gifts when Rita married the first time. We don't want to obligate them again. Do you feel we should have a big wedding for the in-laws' sake? It is the first marriage of their only son and they are adamant. — AGIN IT.

Dear Agin IT: It would be in poor taste to have a big wedding for your daughter a second time. As the parents of the bride this decision should be yours and I hope you stick to your guns. The groom's parents can have a reception when the bride and groom return from their honeymoon and they can make it as lavish as they wish.

If excessive drinking is wrecking your health or destroying someone you love, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Help For The Alcoholic," enclosing with your request 20¢ in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. (C) 1966, Publishers Newspaper Syndicate

Dear Witch: I see no reason for parents to give up TV, radio or anything else to get their kids to study. Students should study because it is their job—their responsibility. Any other approach is nonsense.

Dear Ann Landers: I just

CATALOGUE DUE

Publication of the first catalogue at Palos Verdes State College is scheduled for March. It will list courses and describe college programs to be offered during the 1966-67 school year. Copies may be obtained from the college, 27608 Silver Spur Road, Palos Verdes Peninsula.

Press-Herald Sunday Crossword

(Answer on Page 7)

ACROSS

- 1-Closety
- 2-Diving bird
- 3-Hand gestures
- 4-Without set
- 5-Siltwater
- 6-Sea cow
- 7-Open to view
- 8-Top
- 9-Silenced
- 10-Official
- 11-Suburban
- 12-Porten (colloq.)
- 13-Language
- 14-Maxwell
- 15-Suffit; follower
- 16-Bagelous
- 17-Cleaning device
- 18-Superlative
- 19-Analysis, on
- 20-Sentence
- 21-Double digit
- 22-Departed
- 23-Evergreen tree
- 24-Be ill
- 25-Submerged
- 26-Scallop hat
- 27-Falls into disease
- 28-Approach
- 29-Scold
- 30-Vast horizon
- 31-Beverage
- 32-Dutch measure
- 33-Highest
- 34-Religious state
- 35-Escape
- 36-Religious state
- 37-Substance
- 38-Poole in air
- 39-Part of violin

DOWN

- 1-Fant one's way
- 2-Rails
- 3-Raft's name
- 4-Roman gods
- 5-Dawn goddess
- 6-Dramas
- 7-Teachery
- 8-Score of moths
- 9-Note of scale
- 10-Suspense
- 11-Rasp
- 12-Sulphate
- 13-Woolly sheep
- 14-Exist
- 15-Wheat-like animal
- 16-European
- 17-Hall
- 18-Earth goddess
- 19-Mistake
- 20-Cease
- 21-Quicker's high note
- 22-Loop

ACROSS

- 71-Mule as written
- 72-Abstract being
- 73-Martin's stand
- 74-Edge
- 75-Arabian
- 76-Whirlwind
- 77-Destruction of 142-Prison
- 78-Sea nymph
- 79-Genus of herbs
- 80-Body
- 81-Piece for two
- 82-Winglike
- 83-Tenacity
- 84-Relative
- 85-Evaluation
- 86-Hold on property
- 87-National
- 88-Negative
- 89-Weird
- 90-Rocky hill
- 91-Youngster
- 92-Pennant
- 93-Warship
- 94-Flat eggs
- 95-Fern islands
- 96-Whirlwind
- 97-Latin conjunction
- 98-Compuls
- 99-Disappearing
- 100-Compass point
- 101-Mat's name
- 102-Metallic element
- 103-Protein
- 104-The
- 105-Person
- 106-Chicken
- 107-Game of cards
- 108-Cris like god
- 109-Indignant
- 110-One of Columbus' ships
- 111-National
- 112-Baguettes
- 113-Animal
- 114-Part of violin

DOWN

- 135-Upper part
- 136-Ordnance
- 137-Accomplished
- 138-Argument
- 139-Afternoon party
- 140-Prison
- 141-Afternoon party
- 142-Prison
- 143-Conjunction
- 144-Mat's nick-name
- 145-Climbing plant
- 146-Fallifiers
- 147-Fruit drink
- 148-Score of moths
- 149-Stale
- 150-Broom
- 151-Wearies
- 152-Chemical compound
- 153-Tail
- 154-Short jackets
- 155-Periods of time

ACROSS

- 97-Massive
- 98-Slander
- 99-Tails
- 100-Woodland
- 101-dilly
- 102-Danish island
- 103-Heraldry
- 104-Light
- 105-Deck
- 106-Girl's name
- 107-Fabric
- 108-Willed
- 109-Oriental vessel
- 110-Falling stick
- 111-Post
- 112-A state (abbr.)
- 113-Learned
- 114-Edible seed
- 115-Changed
- 116-Toward shelter
- 117-Consumed
- 118-Part of room
- 119-Who
- 120-Organ of man's name
- 121-Downer
- 122-Organ of man's name
- 123-darts about
- 124-Enthusiasm
- 125-Flighted
- 126-Careful
- 127-Black
- 128-Narrow, flat
- 129-City in France
- 130-City of Asia
- 131-Regret
- 132-Wings
- 133-Careful
- 134-City in France
- 135-Lasso
- 136-District in Germany
- 137-Space
- 138-Animal
- 139-That is (abbr.)

COUNT MARCO

She's Just a Misguided Female

I mentioned her once before, this Mary McGrath, who became a syndicated columnist only because she resented what I wrote about unreasonable facsimiles of women.

She is so terribly one-sided, always complaining about men. Poor thing, poor misguided creature.

In my opinion, you can depend on it that I may find a few little faults with you here and there but at least I help you out by giving constructive criticism on how you can better yourself.

All Mary McGrath does is tear up men and scatter the pieces.

In her column about husbands topping bachelors on the happiness chart, she says that with a formidable female combination such as a mother first and then a wife who supplants the mother, the U.S. male is forever protected from the harsh realities of his personal inadequacies.

And, my, does she, like her sister writers of woe, fall flat when she adds: "His needs are met with a maximum of love and a minimum of lip." If more wives had a minimum of lip to offer along with jaw failure, more husbands would have fewer needs.

Mrs. McGrath has some good points to make, but she points them all in the wrong direction. His spouse, she writes, "cooks his meals, keeps his house and controls his children so he can concentrate on his pursuits without concern for the home front," a sarcastic note as far removed from the truth as the rest of her drivel.

She (the wife) "admires his intellect, even when he does not have one, and she inspires his confidence and fires his energy for each day's battle for the business world."

"When his ego comes apart at the seams she glues it back together again with plenty of tender loving care. What more could possibly need to complete his circle of contentment?" she concludes.

What more indeed? With those virtues in a spouse, every husband would indeed be a happy, devoted man. But how many husbands would say their wives offer such services? Only those who have wives who have been reading MY column and realize the errors of their ways and correct themselves, or those who are woman enough not to need my advice but check it periodically so they won't.

Bachelors may not be as happy, but have you ever heard a bachelor moan, "My wife doesn't understand me?"

Why must women write advice-to-the-miserable columns when they're so ill-equipped to give other than miserable advice?