

Divine Origin of Christ In Sunday's Lesson Topic

Sermon Subject Set at Science

"How to Overcome Discouragement" will be the topic of the Rev. Frank E. Richelieu, minister, at the Church of Religious Science, 907 Knob Hill Ave., Sunday. Morning services are held at 9:30 and 11.

Luke's reverent account of the divine origin of Jesus is the opening theme of the service in Christian Science churches this Sunday on the subject: "Christ Jesus."

The Lesson-Sermon continues with Mark's record of Jesus' baptism in the river Jordan when "the heavens opened, and the Spirit like a dove descending upon him: And there came a voice from heaven, saying, Thou art my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased." And it culminates in John's powerful rhetorical question: "Who is he that overcometh the world, but he that believeth that Jesus is the Son of God?"

Explaining the continued importance of these words to humanity are passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including the following: "An apostle says that the Son of God (Christ) came to 'destroy the works of the devil.' We should follow our divine Exemplar, and seek the destruction of all evil works, error and disease included . . . Those who slew him to stay his influence perpetuated and extended it . . . The persecutors had failed to hide immortal Truth and Love in a sepulchre."
