Las Silabas Guild to Meet at Local YWCA

Las Silabas, the guild to the South Bay Speech and Hearing Center, will hold their monthly meeting tomorrow evening at 8 p.m. at the Torrance YWCA, 2320 W. Carson St. in Torrance. Arrangements have now been completed to use the YWCA on a regular basis, and hereafter meetings will be held on the third Thursday of the month.

The March meeting will be a workshop to prepare for a party and Easter Egg Hunt to be held during Easter vacation for all of the children attending the Center. Mrs. John Kern, president of the guild, states that this will be the first event sponsored by Las Silabas for all of the children as a group. Mrs. Ralph J. Eikmeier is in charge of arrangements for the party. Members of the guild have also made scrapbooks, which were presented to the Center and are used by Mrs. Carol Klinghoffer, director of the Center, and the children in the therapy work. The children have also received the more indirect benefits of past activities, such as the successful "Les Beaux Arts" luncheon which raised funds that were presented to the Center.

Another important indirect benefit to the children results from the efforts of guild members to educate themselves about speech and hearing handicaps. Many of the members are parents of children attending the Center; therefore, meetings often feature qualified speakers in the field of speech and hearing handicaps, which in turn helps to lead to a greater understanding of his child's problems by the parent.

B'nai B'rith Donor Event On March 27

B'nai B'rith Women, Harbor Council, will hold their donor luncheon on Sunday, March 27, at 12 noon at the Lafayette Hotel in Long Beach. Many women from Southview Chapter, who have raised money to support the B'nai B'rith philanthropies, are planning to attend the luncheon, theme of which is "Our Crowning Achievement."

Greetings will be brought from District 4, B'nai B'rith Women, by Mrs. Leo Antokal, first vice-president of District 4.

Entertainment will be provided by Susan Cashman, young lyric soprano, who has appeared with Los Angeles Light Opera Co. and recently as leading lady with the National Company of "My Fair Lady," and by Arthur Ross-Jones, operatic tenor, who has appeared at the Hollywood Bowl and the Music Pavillion. They will be accompanied on the piano by Matilda Barsha.
