

Group to Honor Foster Parents

One thousand foster parents will be honored at the opening of the South Pacific Regional Conference Child Welfare League of America at the Statler-Hilton tonight at 8. Screen star Rosemary De Camp, wife of Superior Court Judge John Shidler will chair the event.

Plays for Living, which dramatizes family and community problems, will program "Present Pleasure," a play about the adjustment and relationship of a child in a foster home. Dr. Eva Schindler-Rainman will lead group discussion about the play and its application. Refreshments in a spring theme will be served.

CHILDREN'S WORKERS and others concerned with the welfare of youth, will be coming here from Guam, Hawaii, and neighboring states for the conference which will run through April 3, on the theme "A Brighter Tomorrow for Today's Children through Community Action."

The Child Welfare League of America which was founded 45 years ago, is a non-sectarian, voluntary federation of 250 accredited child welfare agencies in the United States and Canada. It is an associated group of privately supported organizations and public welfare departments concerned with achieving good standards of care for children of all races and faiths. More than two million children are served annually by League member agencies.

In addition, the league furnishes counsel to 800 non-member agencies. Through league pooling of information and studies, continued improvement of service to troubled and deprived children and help to parents is achieved. It has been a force in combating black market practices in adoption and promoting efforts to find homes for physically handicapped and older children and those from racial minorities.

NEW LOCATION . . . Torrance Camera, operated by Mr. and Mrs. James Giacalone, has moved to 1339 Sartori Ave. in downtown Torrance and will celebrate with a weekend grand opening beginning Thursday morning. The popular headquarters for the amateur and professional camera buff, Torrance Camera has been located on the same block in downtown Torrance for 17 years. The move to larger quarters will let the store meet better the requirements of area photographers, Giacalone said. Store hours are 9 to 6 week days, 9 to 9 Friday.
