Miller Wins Top Honors for Show

"Why Is It So?," a series which El Camino College physics professor Julius Sumner Miller did for Australian television in 1965, has been awarded the Television Society of Australia Award.

The equivalent of an "Emmy" award in American television, the commendation was made "for success in stimulating interest in natural physical laws."

Also well known for his work in this country, Miller is currently appearing on a CBS series on Sunday afternoons. Called "The Julius Sumner Miller Show," the program deals with what Miller describes as "uncommon men and great ideas."

Scout Bazaar Slated

Holiday gifts and decorations — and a few white elephants — will be offered for sale Saturday at the annual Christmas Bazaar sponsored by Boy Scout Troop 761 and Cub Pack 761-C.

The bazaar will be held at 3956 Redondo Beach Blvd. Doors will open at 9 a.m.

Needlework, home-baked pies and cakes, candles, and other holiday items will be offered, according to Mrs. Hobart Lias and Mrs. Robert Church. The two women head up the list of Scout mothers who will supervise the bazaar.

Also to be featured are Christmas centerpieces, hand-crafted jewelry, novelty items, doll clothes and grab bags.

Funds raised during the bazaar will be used to purchase camping equipment for the troop, which won top honors in the 1966 South Bay District Camporee, and for Cub Scout activities.
