

Panthers Lead in Soccer

In Youth Soccer League play at Jefferson School two weeks ago, Kurt Stierle, thwarted several Hornets scoring chances in the closing minutes of the game, to give the Comets a 2-2 tie.

Bob Jordan faked two Hornets defenders before hitting the far corner of the goal with a left-footer to put the Comets ahead, 2-0.

The Hornets started fast in the second half and finally scored on a penalty kick by Dave Mulgrew after Bob Lowell handled a loose ball. A long shot from the left wing by David Kay tied up the thriller 2-2 and only outstanding defensive play by Comets' goalie Bonchonsky and fullback Kurt Stierle kept the second division league leaders from winning their fourth straight.

In the second game, David Carson scored another four goals to lead the Mustangs to a 4-2 victory over the last place Cougars. Carson is now the league's highest scorer with 12, and his Mustangs are just a half game out of first place in the second division.

Pelley scored the two goals for the Cougars. The Panthers won their fourth straight in the main event as they edged the Blue Jets, 2-1, to continue their hold on first place in the first division.

Stuprich put the Blue Jets ahead 1-0 on a first half penalty kick in the hectic contest, but the Panthers put on the pressure in the second half. First, Walt Listener took a rebound off the upright and smashed it into the nets, leaving goalie Daniel Tolopilo no chance. Then, the ever-dangerous Panther center forward David Adair broke through the Blue Jets' defense for the winning goal and the final 2-1 score.

The Bird Has Gone, So Bring on Santa

BY REYNOLDS KNIGHT
The bird has been dealt with, now bring on Santa.

This is a sentiment that most housewives express who know that the end of Thanksgiving Day traditionally heralds the beginning of the Christmas shopping season. Husbands also know that this is a period when they'll probably expend more cash than in any other 30 days of the year. So here are some tips about warranty protection on items you may buy:

Say you purchase an expensive camera and when you get it home you discover it's defective. Your legal right to return it for immediate replacement or refund is based on an "implied warranty"—i.e., the implication that the goods you see on a counter are of salable quality. Therefore, you need no written guaranty for the replacement or refund.

However, if you buy home movie equipment that supposedly has special features such as automatic sound control and it doesn't, then in order to get a refund you need to sow an "express warranty," a guarantee in writing. Usually retailers will take back faulty merchandise with no questions asked, but in case you run into difficulty, a letter from your lawyer can work wonders.

nate the new line of toys stocked in retail stores this Christmas season.

Aviation and Western themes are "big" this year, according to W. S. Hicks, F.W. Woolworth Co. toy buyer. For little girls, dolls are still the most popular gift.

With the emergence of helicopters as airport "taxis" and industrial air going "trucks," a toy helicopter will be popular this year. It has blinking lights, produces the sound of whirling helicopter blades, and can move forward or in circles.

POLLUTION OF the air we breathe and the water we drink is a problem that has alarmed civic and industrial leaders during the past decade. In an effort to eliminate or control the problem, tens of billions of dollars have been spent by federal, state and local governments.

Pending anti-pollution laws could require further outlays, reading possibly a total of $275 billion annually by the year 2,000, a survey estimates.

Additionally, many industrial leaders have spent huge sums on privately financed anti-pollution projects. One that recognizes its responsibility to its community is Kimberly-Clark Corporation, one of the world's ranking producers of paper and paper products. It has been waging an anti-pollution campaign for many years.

Kimberly-Clark recently dedicated a new $1-million water pollution control facility to process effluent from the company's Mottine, Ohio business paper mill. This new facility treats paper mill waste water so thoroughly that it is returned to the Miami river "in better condition than the river itself," experts have testified.

This is the third major water pollution control unit put into operation by Kimberly-Clark within the past two years. Others are the 11-million-gallons-per-day system at Anderson, Calif., and a 50-million-gallons-per-day unit at Coosa Pines, Ala.

Steelers Win Sixth Straight

The Torrance Pop Warner Steelers won their sixth straight game Sunday at Covina, beating the Rolling Heights Sun Devils, 19-18.

The lead changed hands five times and the margin of victory was Don Rowell's conversion run.

Three fumbles stopped the hard running Steeler offense in the first half.

Torrance's peewee Boiler-makers were downed by Covina's Vikings, 10-2.

This was the Boiler-makers' first full season as an organized peewee team in Pop Warner.

In the midlets, the Chargers pulled out Torrance's second one point victory of the day against Covina, 20-19. The Chargers finished the season with a 5-4-2 record.

Two-Wheelers Featured at Ascot Park

Eddie Mulder, the only man ever to sweep all the National Steeplechase motorcycle races in a single season, tops the cast for the 1966 two-wheeled racing finale Sunday afternoon at Ascot Park.

First race on the 18-event menu is set for 2 p.m.

Mulder, the hard-riding young Burbank ace, has enjoyed a phenomenal season. He won the Ascot National with ease, so the local fans are well aware of his talents.

But, good as he is, Mulder is no cinch to win at Ascot Sunday. Skip Van Leeuwen is having a big year and he defeated Mulder in the last steeplechase meet at the 183rd and Vermont Avenue oval.

Other standouts entered include Gene Romero, Dick Simmons, Dan Haaby, Jack Hammer, Guy Louis, Chuck Jones and Ralph White.

With the final payday of the 1966 season the lure, the action figures to be particularly intense.

Lakers, Hawks Tangle At Sports Arena Today

Basketball excitement comes to the Sports Arena in double doses tonight when the Los Angeles Lakers take on the St. Louis Hawks at 7:05 in the nightcap of a unique double feature.

The Lakers and Hawks, who battled the full seven games last spring to settle the Western Division championship, will be showcasing two of the NBA's top rookies in their first Los Angeles meeting of this season. The Lakers have Jerry Chambers, the best shooting first year man in the league, while the Hawks have Lou Hudson, currently the top scoring yearling pro.

The action gets under way at 5:30, when the National Basketball Team of Israel continues its United States tour by facing the Southern California AAU champion Carnation Company team.

The Israelis are led by international star Tanchum Cohen-Mintz, while Carnation boasts a host of former UCLA college stars including UCLA's Johnny Green.

This is the third meeting of the 1966-67 season between the Lakers and Hawks. The teams are even after two meetings in St. Louis. The Hawks won an early season clash, 110-109, when L.A. was without both Baylor and West. The Lakers came back to take a 133-126 decision last week with West scoring 36 and Baylor 26.

Brought along slowly by Laker coach Fred Schaus—Chambers played in only five of the first 10 games and then saw only 68 minutes of action — LA's number one draft choice has suddenly become one of the hottest shooters and most consistent scorers in the league with an 11.5 average.

... Today's Lesson

season?

A—More goals are being tried, but we're missing more, too. You know the reason? It's those new goalposts — they're 10 feet higher and make the target look narrower. Kickers tend to aim more and that causes misses. Fred Cox (Vikings), Tommy Davis (49ers) and Michaels agree with me that the higher posts make it tougher. In Cox's first three years he said he kicked 26 straight from 35 yards in. This year he has missed around 12, most from that distance. I was more accurate in preseason, when we used the lower posts.

Q—How much do you practice kicking?

A—I try to kick some every day, in and out of season. I actually kick too much, as my leg tires toward the end of the schedule. Ben Agajanian, the onetime Ram kicker, is helping me a lot. He comes out once or twice a week. With his help I've improved my kickoffs at least 50 per cent. I used to tilt the ball back on the kicking tee, thinking I'd get better height. Ben told me to place it straight up, drive through and I'd get a slow spin, which would travel farther and just as high. It worked.

Q—Are more field goals being blocked?

A—All teams now have prevent set-ups, but the Rams work at it the most. I've had five blocked this year, but our team has blocked 9 or 10. Irv Cross is tremendous at it. He gets such a good jump he's in the backfield before the ball reaches the kicker. Against Davis in San Francisco recently he leaped through the air so fast the kick passed behind him!

Paul Jones Favored at Irwindale

Paul Jones of Torrance, brother of racing great Parnelli Jones, is favored to win the final CRA Big Car Sprint race of 1966 this afternoon at San Gabriel Speedway in Irwindale.

Jones, who has been one of the top Southland drivers for the past two years, will have to outrun point champion Don Thomas of El Cajon, Bob Hogue of Buena Park, Billy Wilkerson of El Monte and Hal Minyard of Crestline.

Other local entries are Jack Brunner of Gardena, Donnie Melton of Torrance, Bob George of Redondo Beach and Bob Doherty of Hawthorne.

The big cars, powered by Offenhauser, Ford and Chevy engines, will hit speeds of more than 130 mph on the straightaways.

The race has drawn the finest drivers in the west, many of whom will go on to race in the Indianapolis 500 on Memorial Day.

Qualifying for Sunday's race starts at 1 p.m., with the first race at 2 p.m.

Footballers Honored at Harbor JC

Harbor College placed 11 football players on the WSC All-Team selections, head coach Floyd Rhea announced at the Fall Sports Banquet Tuesday.

Don Bohannon, defensive tackle, was awarded the "Most Inspirational Player" of 1966. He was also chosen for the WSC First Team and was the recipient of the "Outstanding Defensive Man" award.

Fullback Tim Foley received the "Most Valuable Player" trophy and was chosen for the WSC Second Team.

Others honored were WSC first team selections guard Kenneth Bridges; and line backers Pete Taculog and Byron Bougere.

Honorable mention was given to halfback Bill Tapp and guard Bob Fredrickson.

Law in Action

In the early days employers often abused seamen, which led to mutiny or war and disruption of commerce. As a result, the government adopted a policy to protect seamen by making them government "wards."

Today it protects seamen and a few shore bound workers in working conditions, health, and accident protection.

Take wages: The Government can tie up a ship if its sailors have not received their pay.

SHIPOWNERS must provide maintenance and care for an injured or sick seaman, so long as his disability arose in connection with his employment regardless of who was at fault. Of course, no seaman is protected if his own wilful misconduct caused his sickness or injury or if he concealed his condition before he took the job.

Seamen need only prove that their injury happened while they were employed at sea or on shore.

Maintenance means daily living expenses to recover from an illness. The shipowner must give the care and cure, if necessary by putting his ship into port. Otherwise he will be liable for any aggravation of the illness or injury.

The shipowner also has to guarantee that his ship, its equipment and crew are seaworthy. The ship must be a safe place to work. Failing this the shipowner is absolutely liable for the resulting injuries.

The doctrine of "seaworthiness" first applied in favor of shippers of cargo. It was later extended to seamen and now to longshoremen. A defective hull, an unsafe structure, bad equipment, or an unfit officer or crew can make the ship unseaworthy and the owner liable if there are injuries.

THE JONES ACT, Death on the High Seas Law, and the Long Shoreman's Compensation laws give further protection. The employer must give protection from assaults by other crewmen or by superior officers otherwise he is liable for the resulting personal injuries.

Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.

Every now and then we have occasion to transplant or report shade plants and it is essential that certain precautions be taken to make sure we do not lose any prize plants.

Thoroughly scrub the pots if you use old ones. I like to dip them in a diluted copper ether solution (use rubber gloves) after all old dirt has been removed.

If you can, of course, new pots are the best. Use clean soil and new potting mix. Soak old pot and plant in a vitamin hormone solution, keep plant moist while transferring and soak new planting mix and newly transplanted plant with the vitamin hormone solution.

Use this material in the first five or six waterings to prevent transplant shock.

If a spray is necessary, use a fatty acid emulsion spray that will not hurt the
