By Mike Connolly's Staff

Dear Sir: Is the baby we see on "Bewitched" the baby Elizabeth Montgomery gave birth to sometime last year? —S.W., Dodge City, Kansas.

Dear S.W.: No is the answer for you. On the show, they use twins so that each baby only has to work half the time. Their names are Tamar and Julie Young. Elizabeth's baby, born Oct. 5, 1965, is named Robert Deverell Asher and his father is Bill Asher, the producer.

Dear Staff: I think Jonathan Harris is the greatest actor on TV. Why wasn't he nominated for an EMMY? And "Lost in Space" also? —R.A.M., Suncook, New Hampshire.

Dear R.A.M.: Man you're far out — way out. You're a rarity and there aren't many of you. Emmy-winning shows most times are the most popular shows. Take the Dick Van Dyke Show, for example; it kept very high ratings year in and year out.

Dear Sirs: What are the top 15 shows? We have too many arguments in our house. The ratings will help us to determine which shows we watch. —D.W., Boston, Mass.

Dear D.W.: Ratings, right or wrong, aren't available to the public, but we can list the top shows for you. According to our latest information, they are, in order: Bonanza, Red Skelton, Andy Griffith, Bob Hope/Chrysler, Saturday Night Movie, Lucy Show, Rat Patrol, Jackie Gleason Show, Sunday Night Movie, Walt Disney Show, Beverly Hillsbillies, Green Acres, My Three Sons, Gomer Pyle and Get Smart.

Dear Question Box: Will you please tell me to whom Kitty Carlisle is married and has she children? And what is Orson Bean's real name? Is he really from New England? —J.D., Shreveport, La.

Dear J.D.: Kitty Carlisle is the widow of the famous playwright Moss Hart and she has no children. Orson was born Dallas F. Burrows in Burlington, Vt. You should be happy to know you TV fans might have had something to do with bringing "To Tell the Truth" back to the airwaves this coming Monday, Dec. 12.

Dear Sirs: I would like very much to know what Robert Fuller is doing. He was so good in "Laramie." No one can kiss a girl like he can and as an actor, he's tops. What is he doing and where may I write him? —Mrs. C.M., Santa Cruz, Calif.

Dear Mrs. C.M.: During Bob Fuller's layoff, he's busy remodeling a large home just around the corner from Bob Hope. He put in his own tennis court and will landscape the entire one-acre estate after he finishes modernizing the home itself. You may write him: c/o WCA, 4419 Van Nuys Blvd., Suite 207, Sherman Oaks, Calif.

Dear Staff: People are telling me Bob Crane is an ex-disc jockey. If so, how did he turn out to be an actor and comedian? —F.M., Lancaster, South Dakota.

Dear F.M.: Just before "Hogan's Heroes," Bob had a talk and interview show which he started in 1956 on CBS in Hollywood. To prove he could act, he did a play in Laguna Beach (Calif.) and from that he became the next door neighbor on the "Donna

A ROSE BETWEEN . . . And yet you can't really call Tony Longinotti and Bill Mansfield a pair of thorns, but you certainly can call Vi 'Princess' Rhodes a rose. They're shown recently at Tony's San Francisco Restaurant in Santa Monica while Ungar Electric Tool Company's public relations man Bill Mansfield was promoting good will for both the San Francisco's excellent cuisine and The Princess Soldering Iron.

Reed Show." The rest you know.

Dear Sir: What happened to Alice Lon who used to be on the Lawrence Welk Show? Where is she and what is she doing now? — Mrs. S.H., Hollywood, Calif.

Dear Mrs. S.H.: It will seem strange to you as it does to us, but the most recent news we have is that she is managing a dress shop down in Texas.

Dear Sirs: I think I'm confused but was Pat Buttram, Roy Rogers' sidekick in Roy's series a few years back? Your answer will help make me king again in my own home. — F.G., Urbana, Ill.

Dear F.G.: Sorry Knave! It was Pat Brady who was in the Roy Rogers series. Pat Buttram was Gene Autry's sidekick in movies and TV. So let's hope you've confused Gene Autry with Roy Rogers. In any event, you probably know Pat is the city slicker in "Green Acres" and is married to actress Sheila Ryan.

Library Sets Holiday Show

A special showing of Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" has been scheduled at the Torrance Library, 1345 Post Ave., Wednesday, Dec. 21, at 10:30 a.m. The film stars Frederick March in the role of Scrooge. There is no charge for admission.

Seems Like Only Yesterday

How about that! As of tomorrow, the 8th, we'll have been yakking at you people for a whole year about the fine dine-outeries available in the South Bay Area and here you thought all along we'd never make it!

But the situation hasn't changed a bit over the past 12 months with the exception of some new spots as well as the old standbys.

Let's take for example The Hunting Horn at the corner of Hawthorne and Silver Spur Road in Peninsula Center.

This has been a popular spot for either lunch or dinner as well as cocktails and as of a few weeks back they're now under new management-ownership. The new gentlemen at The Horn are a formidable pair if there ever was a formidable pair. They will be doing some big things up there on the hill in the next few months, so keep alert.

Currently regaling the patrons at the Hunting Horn is the Sonny Calderone Trio Plus One, a highly talented group.

Still another old standby is the House of Prime which is now re-named Carl Cocco's Capri at 29023 S. Western.

Co-owner-operator Spence Van Winkle is still on hand dispensing your "giant malts" nately, while pretty and efficient Lea Cocco (yep, they five specials there for you . . . either choice prime rib or sirloin steak, plus dancing and CRAZY listening! Chef Frank presents the best in the area!

So don't become confused now because these two spots have similar names. This one is The San Francisco Restaurant in Santa Monica owned, operated and hosted by Tony Longinotti.

Spent a highly interesting and stimulating evening there not long ago with Vi "The Princess" Rhodes who symbolizes "Susie The Solderer" (remember "Rosie The Riveter?") for Litton Industries. "Princess Vi" represents the new soldering iron known as The Princess (a real small job for real small jobs) which was perfected by the Ungar Electric Tool Company of Hawthorne.

Kind of half way suspect that public relations expert for Ungar, Bill Mansfield, had something to do with bringing this lovely doll into the spotlight.

Meanwhile, enjoying the excellent cuisine offered at The San Francisco, as well as the listenable pianoing of Jacques Foti were such luminaries as Connie Haines, Mary Maude French (of "In Like Flint"), who was there with Jack Eaton, Jeffery Hunter and Sally Ann Howes as well as Richard Kishady . . . and that one of the best-known portrait painters around!

Swing by the San Francisco next time you're in Santa Monica and get acquainted with some really interesting people.
