Joining them in the cast will be Anne Childress and Terry Collier. The comedy will be presented for five weekends through Jan. 28.

Spartans Speak

By Terry Dorn

Ah! Holidays are here again: Yuletide, mistletoe, and New Year's Eve; the whole bit. Now is the time for all good Spartans to take a rest. We'll have two weeks of winter pleasure. But in the meantime we'll be having a food drive for which all food collected will go to needy families.

Tomorrow morning at 6:30, kids will be dancing in the cafeteria at the "Dance at Dawn" sponsored by the senior class. Donuts, orange juice, and hot chocolate will be served. It should be a lot of fun.

The basketball team will be participating in two tournaments: the Hawthorne Tournament, which ends Saturday, and the Bishop Montgomery Tournament, from Dec. 28 through 30.

The Folklorico Club will be attending the Joan Baez Concert Friday.

Everyone is going festive. 'Tis the season to be jolly. The French, Latin, Spanish, Future Nurses, and FBLA clubs will soon be having sumptuous Christmas feasts. Some of the clubs will dine out while others will have a good, old-fashioned party at the school. They will all be merry. (Ho, ho!)

Southwest's Singers Join County Christmas Project

More than 100 Southwest residents will be among the 1,620 musicians and singers who will entertain at the County's annual Christmas Eve Musical Program. County Supervisor Burton W. Chace said today.

The free program, which features 12 continuous hours of traditional Christmas music, begins at 9 a.m., at the Music Center, 135 North Grand Ave.

"This program provides an excellent opportunity to County residents to visit the Music Center and hear the spirit of Christmas hailed through music," Chace said. "It also spotlights many of the talented choral groups and orchestras of our County."

High School Choir, directed by Thomas Wilson. The group will feature 60 voices as it presents eight numbers, including Jingle Bells and We Wish You a Merry Christmas.

The Junior Chorus of the South Bay Junior Academy, Seventh Day Adventist Church. This group of more than 20 youngsters will sing three numbers and join in three others with the combined voices of two other Seventh Day Adventist youth choruses.

South Bay Baptist Church. This group of 20 voices will present selections from the cantata, Carol of Christmas, under the direction of Conductor Kenneth Royer.

THE CHRISTMAS Eve musical program is presented annually by the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors and the Los Angeles County Music and Performing Arts Commission.

Some 1,620 singers and musicians from throughout the County will be on-stage during the 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. program.

"This program is broadcast over radio station KRHM-FM and televised on UHF Station KCET (Channel 28) for those who cannot be present," Chace said. "However the program at the Music Center is free for those who can fit it into their busy holiday schedule."

telecast, portions of the 12-hour-long presentation will be sent "live" to Great Britain and Canada, and taped presentations are set on Christmas Day in Australia and New Zealand.
