WHAT'S DOING?

One business that's really catching on is the telephone answering service. These businesses (not part of the phone company) answer the phone for just about everyone who needs to be available to the public at all hours: lawyers, repair services, salesmen, and doctors—just to name a few. Since the first one was originated over 40 years ago, the number of answering services in California has grown to more than 700 and they serve over 100,000 clients.

From taking department store orders after hours, to serving as a secretary for busy people, the telephone answering service is another part of the ever-widening range of telephone uses. And you'll find them listed in the Yellow Pages of your telephone book.

Starting September 22 the Bell Telephone Hour will be presented every third Friday. Please check your local newspaper for time and station.

Interesting Comments from your Torrance Business Office Representative

Direct distance dialing has been inaugurated between New Delhi and other Indian cities. The Indian government calls the new service STD, but newspapers say the initials stand for suspense, tension and delay.

Telesat, the world's first international communication satellite, was fired into orbit five years ago. Forty years ago, in July 1927, San Clemente, Calif., became the first American city to be served by dial telephone service.

It may be sheer coincidence, but the last three digits of a Minneapolis CIA agent's phone number are 007. Last year, Western Electric manufacturing unit of Pacific Telephone and the Bell System, produced more than 8,000,000 telephones and 37 million miles of cable and wire.

The first transcontinental telephone line was opened between New York and San Francisco in 1915.

People who dial the telephone number to get the recorded time announcements are very courteous. A recent survey showed 62 per cent of the callers said "thank you."

There are more than 100 million telephones working in the United States today.
