

Thomas to Ask Funds for Ocean Engineering School

A bill which would appropriate $500,000 toward the establishment of a Department of Marine and Ocean Engineering within the California State College is being prepared for the next session of the State Legislature.

Assemblyman Vincent Thomas (D-San Pedro) said he would introduce the bill in January when the legislature begins its 1968 regular session.

Thomas is the author of a resolution which directed the trustees of the State College system to determine the feasibility of an Institute of Marine and Ocean Engineering under the National Sea Grant College and Program Act of 1966.

I HAVE learned that Dr. Leo F. Cain, president of California State College, Dominguez Hills, and his staff are preparing an outline study on this subject," Thomas said. "I intend to see that this project has every opportunity to be brought to a successful conclusion."

"My appropriation measure will provide the necessary funds to begin the physical establishment of such a facility," the assemblyman said. "My office has been in contact with the staff at Dominguez Hills and I am pleased to see that this newest of our state colleges is so interested in this program."

Thomas said the study of the development of ocean resources could blend into the Dominguez Hills academic program in the fields of earth and space sciences.

HIS PLAN calls for the establishment of a scientific educational center to engage in the intensive study and development of technology for the extraction of the resources of the ocean.

"The Institute of Marine and Ocean Engineering will be the vehicle for the education and help to provide not only for the resurgence of our depressed commercial fishing industry but for the employment of many thousands in industries which today are virtually non-existent," he added.

Fireman's Ball Slated In November

The 19th annual Fireman's International Hotel. Tickets, at $3 per couple, may be purchased at the Redondo Beach fire stations, 401 S. Broadway, and 2400 Grand Ave.

Garden Checklist

1. Plant all spring-blooming bulbs this month and next. Tulips are better planted on the late side—in November and December.
2. Pick fading blooms from rose bushes and you can encourage prolonged fall bloom.
3. Bait for snails. The cooler weather stirs them to new activity in the garden.
4. Plant annuals for early spring bloom. Some such as pansy, viola, alyssum and Virginia Stock make a good cover for bulb beds.
5. Add autumn color to the garden with berried shrubs such as pyracantha, cotoneaster and barberry. They yield instant color this time of year.
