

Full Address Required To Avoid Delaying Mail

Postmaster Carl L. Backlund today reminded Torrance residents to be sure and use the correct address on letters and packages going to servicemen overseas.

Backlund said millions of letters and packages destined for overseas areas have been delayed because they were improperly addressed.

One of the most common problems, according to Backlund, is the failure of persons mailing packages to include the five-digit APO or FPO number in the military address.

More than nine million pieces of mail were delayed last year because of insufficient addresses, Backlund said. Of that number, some 3.5 million pieces did not include the APO or FPO number.

"As the Christmas mail volume going overseas is expected to increase up to 30 million pounds over last year, every precaution should be taken to address letters and packages properly to assure rapid delivery," Backlund said.

There are four essential elements to an overseas military address. They are:

- The serviceman's identity—grade, full name, and service number.
- His military unit—complete.
- Gateway post office—New York, San Francisco, or Seattle.
- APO or FPO number—a five-digit number.

The Veterans Administration is paying death indemnity compensation to more than 463,000 dependents of 363,000 veterans who died from service-connected causes.

To Increase Authority

Compromise Plan Eyed For County Lifeguards

A plan which would give Los Angeles County coastal lifeguards the authority to enforce laws on county beaches has moved another step closer to becoming a reality.

The Board of Supervisors last Tuesday approved a motion by Supervisor Burton W. Chace which calls for a study into the legality of such a proposal.

In the motion approved Tuesday, Chace called for legal opinions on his proposal to give county lifeguards the authority to issue citations for misdemeanor law violations.

"IF WE ARE to maintain order and safety on the beaches, the lifeguards must have some authority to enforce the laws," Chace said. Chace represents all of the Los Angeles County coastal lifeguards.

"The prime responsibility of the lifeguards would continue to be saving the lives of swimmers and boaters," Chace said. "However, it would enhance their role as the men who are charged with enforcing beach safety if they had the authority to issue citations to those who jeopardize the public welfare."

CHACE TOLD the board he is meeting with representatives of the County Parks and Recreation Department, as well as with spokesmen for the lifeguards, to work out details of implementing the plan.

He asked John Maharg, County Counsel, to weigh the legality of bestowing the additional authority on the lifeguards.

"These men have a fine record of lifesaving and are anxious to further serve the county by enforcing beach safety," Chace said. "The board should give them the authority to go with this responsibility."

ALLOWANCES PAID

Educationally disadvantaged veterans now receive educational allowances under the new GI Bill to complete high school or take refresher courses without diminishing their eligibility for college education or other training, the Veterans Administration states.
