

WARRIOR TRAILS

By Robin Newcomer

Christmas spirit has taken the form of class competition this week. The four classes at West have been given one tall, green, pine-smelling, but naked tree. So that the trees won't look like something that stands in Ebenezer Scrooge's living room, each class has set out to decorate its tree so that even Santa Claus would be happy to claim it.

The only catch to the whole thing is that the trees must be adorned with home-made ornaments. Warriors are busy stringing cranberries and popcorn, making paper chains, and decorating styrofoam balls for the four tree which are located in the two cafeterias.

THE YULETIDE season is filled with a deep meaning which the singing and instrumental groups will bring out through music tomorrow evening at 8 in the gym. The choral groups, directed by Donnelly Fenn, and the orchestra, under the direction of Ronald Large, will present their annual Christmas program.

Concert Planned At South

The South High School music department will present its annual Christmas Concert at 8 p.m. tonight in the South High Cafeteria. There is no admission charge and the public is invited.

George Andrews, band and madrigal director, and Mrs. Pat Byers, choral director, have prepared the program to include the South High band, Girls' Glee, Men's Chorus, Mixed Chorus, Concert Choir, the Chansonettes, Madrigals and Men's Quartet. Soloists featured will be Joel Schneider and Emily Karr. Accompanists are Gail Stohand, Laura Lemisch, and Kathryn Dietz.

In addition to individual group performances, various choral and band units will combine for seasonal selections, spirituals, and hymns. Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus" will conclude the evening concert.

gram whose theme is "The Meaning of Christmas." There will be no admission charge. Approximately 150 Warriors turned out to vote at the special election last Friday concerning three proposed amendments. Although the minute quantity of ballots turned in can be attributed to student apathy, the Student Council itself might have a lot to do with the election failure. With the 14th the proposed date of the election and the 8th also publicized as the day to vote, students became a little confused. Perhaps we could make it a little closer next time, please?

THE FLURRY of Christmas and pre-vacation excitement will come to an abrupt halt at 3 p.m. Friday when about 2,000 lockers are slammed shut for the last time in 1967 and students have called their last "Merry Christmas" to departing friends.

Christmas at West has never been more fun than this year. There is no reason why every year can't be this way; make 1967 only the beginning.

New Leader Added to City Staff

Mrs. Jo Ann Marsh, a part-time recreation leader for the past five years, has joined the regular staff of the Torrance Recreation Department.

Mrs. Marsh, principal recreation leader, is assigned to the special services division to coordinate the publication of the city's "Recreation Reporter" and public information programs.

A graduate of San Fernando Valley State College, she holds a bachelor's degree in recreation. Mrs. Marsh is now studying for a master's degree at California State College at Los Angeles.

For the past year, she has served as a recreation center director for the city of Los Angeles.

GIFTS FOR CHRISTMAS . . . West High students, under the leadership of Mrs. Rene Evans and her sales and merchandising class, have collected and wrapped some 300 toys and gifts which will be distributed to children of the Delta Sigma Theta Head Start program in the Santa Monica-Venice area tomorrow. Among students who help distribute the gifts are (from left) Thomas Georger, Victoria Davidson, Terry Field, Constance Schoolcraft, William Roberson, and Cheryl Winmen. Each of 225 children will receive a gift.

Computer Courses Planned

A trio of computer courses will be offered by University of California Extension in the winter quarter beginning the first week of January, from 6:45 to 9:45 p.m., at North High School.

Thomas V. Cahill, president of Computer Procedures, Inc., will conduct a Tuesday night class in "Introduction to Information Processing and Computer Programming," a foundation course pre-requisite for further courses in the Information Processing curriculum.

Wednesdays, "Computer Programming," also taught by Cahill, will offer students the opportunity to design programs, draw flowcharts, write and debug programs to be run on the computer. Machine time will be made available for the class.

"Introduction to Information Management," taught by Charles R. Withers, management systems analyst for TRW Systems, will meet on Thursday evenings. The course is prerequisite to further courses in the information management and systems and procedures curriculum.

Further information may be obtained by writing De-Box 24901, Los Angeles department K, University of California Extension, P.O. Box 90024.

Caroling, Art Show Scheduled

Carols by area high school groups and a Christmas art exhibit are scheduled tomorrow and Friday at the Del Amo Financial Center. Events are scheduled on the plaza level of the center.

The program gets underway at 1 p.m. tomorrow when the South High School Madrigal Choir appears. The Spartans will be followed by the Redondo Union High School Madrigal Choir.

Friday, a group of 80 students from West High will perform from 10 a.m. until noon and the Madrigal Choir and Girls' Ensemble from Palos Verdes High School will appear between 12:30 and 2 p.m.

Art exhibits will be on display both days.

Artists represented in the exhibit include Nona Taylor, Bud Cataldi, Frank Gikiu, Lee Schaaf, George Kaser, Stan Brooks, Fred Tietzel, and Pat McCafferie.
