

A Jolly New Year

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne B. Eads getting a tumultuous Happy New Year Greeting from new daughter, Andrea.

Happiness Is

Andrea Yvonne Eads

1968 promises to be the brightest New Year yet for Mr. and Mrs. Wayne B. Eads, 1626 Acacia . . . and this shining new future is provided by a charming seven-weeks-old, blue-eyed brunette who came to make her home with the Eads on Nov. 14. She is Andrea Yvonne Eads.

auxiliaries, whose combined fund-raising efforts last year provided 21 per cent of Children's Home Society's operating income.

The Eads applied for adoption through the Home Society in June 1967. The child, who was to become their very own, was born Oct. 29 and at the age of two weeks took up permanent residency with her new parents in Torrance.

Through newspaper articles and a friend, Mr. and Mrs. Eads heard of the Children's Home Society, a non-profit organization and California's only statewide adoption agency. Founded in 1891 by medical missionaries, the Society serves natural parents, their children, and couples wishing to begin or increase their families through adoption.

During 1966, Children's Home Society's 18 offices served more than 3,000 natural parents, providing professional and personalized services. After the birth of the children, the Society arranges for competent, loving care for them in temporary licensed boarding homes.

Locally, the Sir Beaumain Auxiliary is one of the 200

This nine pound "bundle of joy" brought happiness not only to her parents but to two sets of grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Grub and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Eads, all of Torrance. She is also receiving warm welcomes from great grandparents Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Banston of Orange County and Mrs. Mae Eads, long-time resident of Torrance.

The new parents have lived in the South Bay for the past 25 years. Mrs. Eads taught kindergarten and first grade for seven years with the Torrance Unified School District.

Mr. Eads is a salesman for the Latham-Woods Lumber Co. in Gardena.

Zimmerman-Evans Vows Recited

Church of the Good Shepherd in Arcadia was the setting yesterday afternoon at two o'clock for the wedding ceremony in which Miss Laura Jane Zimmerman of Alhambra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Zimmerman, 1024 Cerise Ave., exchanged marriage vows with C. Charles Evans, of South Pasadena. Parents of the bridegroom are Mrs. Buena Evans of McCleary, Wash. and the late Mr. C. C. Evans.

On the arm of her father, the bride came down the aisle in a dome silhouette wedding gown. It was fashioned with a beaded Chantilly lace bodice with a Sabrina neckline, and a long white peau de sole skirt which fell into a chapel train. A peau de sole floral headpiece, sprinkled with pearls, held her bouffant veil and carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

In wintergreen floor length saki gowns, attendants were Mrs. Connie Morgavo, her sister's matron of honor; Mmes. Jean Baker and Olga Carrillo, bridesmaids. They carried yellow baby roses.

Best man duties were performed by Frederick D. Seares and the 200 guests were seated by Douglas M. Ross and William R. Mills.

Dr. Chilton C. McPheeters officiated at the vow exchange and Ed Bohleen was soloist.

A reception was held in the Wentworth room at the Huntington-Sheraton Hotel in Pasadena and the newlyweds are now honeymooning in Carmer and Palm Springs.

The bride, a graduate of Torrance High School, is a stenographic secretary with the Los Angeles County Flood Control District.

Her husband, a graduate of Washington State University, is a civil engineer with the County Flood Control District. He is a member of the Toastmasters Club.

After a honeymoon, the couple will be at home at 5717 Huntington Dr., Apt. 8, Los Angeles.

Two Events Celebrated By Family

Two important occasions in the family were celebrated at the annual family Christmas dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Sandstrom at their home, 1514 Madrid Ave., on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 17.

Especially honored were their two daughters and their husbands, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde E. Taylor, and Mr. and Mrs. William Butcher, Jr.

The Taylors were married in Las Vegas on Dec. 2. Mrs. Taylor, a 1967 graduate of Torrance High, is the former Nancy Sandstrom. She is now attending El Camino College. Her husband, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Taylor, also of Torrance, was recently discharged from the United States Army, having served in Germany. He is also continuing his education at El Camino.

Mr. and Mrs. William Butcher, Jr. (Virginia Sandstrom) were celebrating their ninth wedding anniversary.

After the dinner, a wedding cake was served.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Innis, Leslie, Chris and Colleen, Mrs. Barbara Piercy, and C. C. Fenimore, La Crescenta; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Fenimore, Robert and Janice, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Bill McCallister and Cheryl; John Sandstrom and Randy; and Norman Sandstrom, Torrance.

Also, Mrs. Gail Pelle, Tommie and Timmie, Misses Sandy Rosenkrantz, Claudia Hardesty and the Butcher children, Gaylene, Bill and Joanne.

Check For The Indians

In the spirit of the Christmas season, Torrance Business and Professional Woman's Club presented a check to assist with the YMCA's project of supplying food, clothing and other gifts to the Navajo Indians. Joe Wilcox, executive secretary at the Torrance YMCA, accepts the check from Mrs. Flora Hameetman, president of the local B&PW Club, as they look at pictures of Navajo children, whom they are helping. Erickson - Thompson

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest O. Erickson, 1327 Acacia Ave., announce the engagement of their daughter, Kristine Karen, to Richard Francis Thompson, Jr., son of Mrs. Richard Francis Thompson, Sr. of Torrance and the late Mr. R. F. Thompson, Sr.

Miss Erickson is a graduate of Torrance High School and is attending California State College at Long Beach. Mr. Thompson is a graduate of Torrance High School and is attending Emory University in Georgia. He is a member of the Air Force ROTC.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Frederickses Entertain Company Personnel

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fredericks was the setting of a cocktail buffet for the personnel of Mr. Fredericks' realty company. Seventy guests helped make the season jolly.

Using the Christmas theme, the table was set with silver platters flanked by red candles on greenery beds. Holiday foods, and an edible vegetable Christmas tree were enjoyed.

On hand for the party were the Rodney Nickses, Orin Johnsons, Edward Tun-isons, and Lee Jarnagins. Also the Richard Hattrups, Al Poths, J. E. Van Dorns, and Hoyette Sanderlin.

Visiting around the Christmas trees were the Cliff Kreutzes, Don Castles, Fritz Wildes, Manuel Santa Cruzes, and the Leroy Scotts.

Shaggy Santa stories were shared by the Larry Slaters, Dale Stuckers, Chuck Robbines, and Maxine Ruppert. Also eavesdropping were the Paul Nowatkas, the Jim Joneses, Hardy Sakanashis, and Bill Flournoys.

Gathered around the piano were the Roy Fulwidars, Harold Irelands, Richard Hataokas, and the Stanley Sharpes.

Guests outside the company included the Jay DeLanys, Richard Hassenplugs, James Resetcos, Morris Frederickses, and Miles Frederickses.

The highlight of the evening was the presentation of two trophies: the first was awarded to the salesman or saleswoman producing the highest number of sales in 1967. This was presented to Bea Fulwider, an associate in the Sepulveda Boulevard office.

The second trophy was awarded to the most improved sales person for 1967. The recipient was Al Poth, an associate in the Hawthorne office.

The party is an annual occurrence of Fred Fredericks Realty, Inc. This year it fell, coincidentally, on the Frederickses' twelfth wedding anniversary.
