Marine PFC Ronald D. Freeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Freeman of 22046 Ravenna Ave.; Seaman Appren. James W. Thebaut, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Thebaut of 5500 Torrance Blvd.; and Interior Communications Electrician Fireman Appren. Anthony J. Stafford, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy A. Stafford of 3519 W. 190th St., went to the assistance of a Panamanian freighter afire in the South China Sea, as crewmembers aboard the Seventh Fleet anti-submarine warfare attack aircraft carrier Bennington.

When the burning freighter Tey Loo was spotted by a Navy patrol plane, Bennington dispatched a "Sea King" helicopter to the scene to render assistance. Other helicopters were ordered to stand by, until crewmembers of the Tey Loo were evacuated to a nearby Japanese freighter.

Before joining the Seventh Fleet in the Western Pacific, the Bennington underwent a series of operational readiness evaluation tests in Hawaiian waters.

Marine Pfc. Michael R. Hornick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hornick of 21111 Dolores St., was graduated as honorman from an eight-week Ordnance School Optical Instrument Repairman Class 3-67 at Marine Corps Schools, Quantico.

Pfc. Hornick led the graduating class of 15 with an academic average of 94.56. He will be meritoriously promoted to Lance Corporal.

The optical course trains students to inspect, adjust, repair and maintain optical instruments and timepieces. Instruction is received in repair shop procedures, telescopes, mechanical mounts, quadrants, range finders, auxiliary sighting and fire control equipment.

Before entering the service in June, 1966, Pfc. Hornick attended the University of Southern California.

WALT G. ABERCROMBIE Marine Pvt. Walt G. Abercrombie has completed four weeks of individual combat training at Camp Pendleton. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W.G. Abercrombie of 2430 Loftyview Drive.

Careers in Nursing to Be Discussed

A special tea for persons interested in nursing as a career will be held Jan. 10 at 3:30 p.m. in the fireside room by the El Camino College nursing department and Iota Kappa Chi, the EC chapter of the Student Nurses Association of California, according to Margaret G. Brandt, coordinator of nursing at the college.

Special guests will be members of high school future nurses clubs in the El Camino College area, Miss Brandt said.

A short program will be held where visitors will have an opportunity to ask questions about a career in nursing and its advantages in this area as well as what the two-year nursing program at El Camino offers to prospective nurses, Miss Brandt added.

"The tea is open to anyone who is interested in finding out more about the nursing program in general or about what we can offer them specifically," Miss Brandt stated.

Torrance Coed Wins College's Design Award

Donna Walberg of Torrance is one of 14 winners in Los Angeles Trade-Technical College's Fashion Design Alumni Scholarship competition.

One of seven students recognized for talent in pattern-making, Miss Walberg received a $250 scholarship donated by Manufacturers Bank, Mrs. Betty Baumbardner, coordinator of the apparel arts department, explained.

Other awards given in the competition included seven $250 scholarships for talent in pattern-making and six scholarships of $250 for talent in design.

The 23-year-old daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Samuel Walberg, of 21280 Doble Ave., Miss Walberg is a 1961 graduate of Wheaton Community High School, Wheaton, Ill.

A third semester design student at Trade-Tech, Miss Walberg traveled with the Chrysler Show for five years before joining the Trade-Tech student body.

Times Are Tough for This Group

The salary of Torrance councilmen — at least for their efforts as directors of the city's Redevelopment Agency — has taken a big drop.

Six directors convened last night (H. Ted Olson was absent) and voted to approve the minutes from Dec. 20 and pay the bills in about a minute.

But an error in scheduling a forthcoming public hearing slowed things down. It took another four minutes to set a new hearing for Feb. 6 at 8 p.m., reducing the rate of pay to a paltry $180 per hour.

At the rate of $15 per meeting, the directors have been averaging better than $300 per hour for three-minute sessions.

But, then, everybody is making less with increased social security in this new year.

7:30 p.m., according to the pastors. The Rev. R. H. Harms, president of the California Evangelistic Association, will be the featured speaker.

THE CHAMBER'S Industrial Development Committee will be concerned primarily with the proposal to remove 42 acres of industrially zoned land from the tax rolls, Edwin W. Sullivan, assistant manager, told the council. Other facets of the problem also will be studied, he said.

Penick also said the Chamber committee would be given information about Mobil's plans for the property.

IN OTHER action, the council:

• Awarded a contract for the installation of traffic signals at 235th St. and Crenshaw Blvd. to Steiny and Mitchel, which submitted a low bid of $20,600.50.

• Approved a proposal whereby the city's Parks Department will operate a "turf farm" in the airport clear zone areas at the end of the runways.

• Awarded a contract for the installation of curbs, gutters, and sidewalks along a 50-foot section of Sepulveda Blvd. just west of Arlington Ave. Cost of the work is $368.28 and the property owner will pay $200.
