Classes in square dancing new dancers for three weeks, sponsored by the Drifters according to instructor will begin Wednesday evening, Jan. 18, in the Torrance YWCA Building at 2320 W. 213th St., or at the Carson St. Wednesday night session. The class will be open to

Spartans Speak

By Terry Dorn

It's election time at old South High. The semester is nearly over and new student council, class, and Boys' and Girls' League officers will be elected this Friday by the student body.

There is going to be a close battle for student body president. I would hate to predict who will be victorious between such campus leaders as John Balow, Tim Chang, Jeff Marsee, and Steve Stulck.

John Balow has served on student council for several semesters and has held semesters of sophomore and junior president. He has served a semester as student body vice president. Currently on the tennis team, John has a good back-hand and serve.

Tim Chang, who has been student body commissioner of public relations, was once the writer of this column. Tim is very active in speech and debate and is quite a scholar. He is also an excellent chess player.

Jeff Marsee, our famous Spartan track and cross-country star, spent last weekend at the Cow Palace Invitational in San Francisco in which he ran fifth place in the indoor two-mile against 12 of the fastest speedsters in the U.S. Jeff has served on student council for two semesters as commissioner of finance and student body vice president.

Steve Stulck, who came to America from Venezuela as a child, was our first semester senior class president. Last year Steve was a big man on the wrestling team. He is very active in Boys' League.

So as you can see, it will be a close race. We will know the final results after this Friday's elections during lunch. Whatever you do, don't forget to vote!

Marine Pfc. Tom J. Stockman Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Stockman of 21413 Catskill Ave., is serving as a member of "K" Company, Third Battalion, Ninth Marine Regiment, Third Marine Division, Da Nang, Viet Nam.

Tartar Teen Talk

By Pam Anderson

Now that all Tartars have settled back into the routine of school, it's time to elect class officers to lead us through the second semester. The classes held their first quarter grades. An ASB calls Monday and elections were being held today. Applications for student school government, so pick up an application. Torrance High welcomes Mr. Ram Schestha from Nepal. Shrestha is headmaster at a secondary school and is visiting THS to observe all aspects of school organization, administration, and supervision in the United States. LAST SUNDAY, 11 students from THS were privileged to attend the annual "College Student for a Day" program at UCLA. The purpose of this event was to give students an opportunity to meet faculty members and become acquainted with the UCLA campus. Students who attended were Alan Albright, Margie Bromley, Susan Bundy, Nathan Bronford, Vickie Burdman, Alan Johnston, Melody Friburg, James St. Amour, Phyllis Peikutowski, Saul Weinstein, and Rosalie Preston.
