Secrets of the Telescope Told In Park Lecture

How astronomers use their most important scientific tool is presented in "Wonders Revealed by the Telescope," astronomy show currently being offered at Griffith Park Observatory's planetarium theater, a facility of the Los Angeles City Recreation and Parks Department.

Armchair astronomers learn about refracting and reflecting telescopes as star clusters and nebulae are reproduced on the theater's 75-foot domed ceiling by the giant Zeiss projector, Dr. Clarence H. Clemmshaw, Observatory director, said.

LECTURERS explain to the audience during the one-hour show that in refracting telescopes light rays are bent and in reflecting telescopes a concave mirror is used, such as the 200-inch mirror utilized in the telescope located at Mt. Palomar.

Among the celestial phenomena reproduced on the domed ceiling are star clusters such as the Pleiades or Seven Sisters which are seen in the position they actually assume in the heavens.

Shows are presented at 3 and 8:30 p.m. daily, except Mondays, with added matinees on weekends at 1:30 and 4:30 p.m.

NONPROFIT fees of $1 for adults and 50 cents for students under 18 are charged.

The Observatory's Hall of Science is open to visitors without charge from 2 to 10 p.m. Tuesday through Friday, on weekends from 1 to 10 p.m. The facility's telescope is available for public use from 7 to 10 p.m. on clear nights.

San Diego Meeting

Mrs. Melvina Kovicnik, assistant principal at North High School, and Claude Ragsdale, assistant principal of Torrance High School, will attend the fifth annual California Counseling and Guidance Association convention in San Diego Feb. 11 through 13.

Serra Parents to Discuss Father-Son Banquet Plans

The 10th Annual Father-Son Banquet will be discussed by the parents of Serra students when they meet in the school gym at 8 on Monday evening.

The banquet, chaired by Dr. Byron Cosgrove, is an affair given for the purpose of recognizing Serra students for outstanding accomplishments in various phases of school activities during the past semester.

Several athletes from USC, as well as several successful alumni, will be guests.

The Serra Dance Band will provide the entertainment, and the "Young Folk Generation," a popular singing group under the direction of Brother Clarence Wong, will provide the entertainment after dinner.

The banquet will be held in the school gym on Sunday,

Feb. 5, at 5 p.m., and all Serra dads and students are invited to attend. Seating capacity is limited, and tickets at $2.50 each, are available in the school treasurer's office to those who come first.

Also on the meeting agenda is a movie, recently prepared, of El Camino College. It will be followed by a short talk by Serra dad Joe Dzida.

Loan Firm Reports Good Year

Cabrillo Savings in Torrance reports that 1966 was a successful and profitable year despite setbacks to the housing industry and increased competition for savings.

In a letter to stockholders accompanying the annual statement, Pietro DiCarlo, president and chairman of the board, reported Cabrillo's net profit after taxes as $258,603.

"Another indication of the soundness and strength of Cabrillo Savings," says DiCarlo's letter, "is the condition of our loan portfolio. As a result of our selective lending policy, at year end scheduled items were less than 1 per cent and there was no real-estate owned held by the association. This is an outstanding achievement by our management, and we are proud to state that Cabrillo Savings is reputed to be one of the soundest and most well-managed financial institutions in the state."
