

Two New Members to Join State Highway Commission

Capitol News Service
SACRAMENTO — Governor Ronald Reagan has announced the appointment of two members of the California highway commission to succeed commissioners whose terms have expired.

Vernon J. Cristina, long active in the transportation field and head of Cristina Warehouse Co., in San Jose, was named to replace Roger S. Woolley, of Rancho Santa Fe.

Moon Lim Lee, Weaver-ville businessman, was named to succeed Joseph C. Hough-teling of Atherton. Both of the new appointees will serve terms expiring on Jan. 15, 1971.

The highway commission has authority in preparing and adopting the highway construction budget each year and also makes selection of highway and freeway rout-ings. Cristina, 51, owned and operated orchard properties and a general store in San Benito county from 1937 to 1948 and was vice president of the Gar-den City Transportation Co., and president of Garden City Warehouses Co. and Coastal Terminals, Inc., all of San Jose, from 1948 to 1959.

Lee operated a grocery business in Weaverville from 1922 to 1948 and since 1949 has operated an appliance firm. He is a director of the Highway 299 Association, the Trinity county recreation and parkway district, and the Weaverville sanitary district. He is a member of the Chi-nese Historical Society of America.

Spot Checking

Interstate Host Operation

And that in itself covers a multitude of sins when you stop and put together their enterprises; goodie spots like Galley West Restaurant at Marineland, Host International Restaurant at the L.A. Airport, just to name a couple.

Look and listen to, for instance, those mad, mad modern moods of the Multi-Sounds, currently at The Galley West, Tuesday thru Sunday. These three play their respective instruments and then turn around and double on everything but the pitchen sink . . . and if you were to drag one of those in, they'd at least give it a try!

Then take a slide down to the Host International Restaurant in the futuristic Theme Bldg. You know, that wild looking round deal in the center of activities down at the airport, where they've got an unobstructed view of everything that is anything through the 11-foot-high windows. (Providing, of course, it's not too foggy—in which case — forget it!)

However, view or no view, you may still enjoy one of the finest gourmet dinners offered in this area. All manner of goodies from all parts of the world, thereby retaining the theme of "International" . . . France, Germany, Greece, Italy, Holland, just name the country and you'll find some rare and tasty tidbit as representative of that country.

And for entertainment you are regaled by the unique and romantic music of Wynn Warner and his Enchanted Strings which consists of four strolling violinists, accom-panied by a harp, piano and bass. And at times when the four "strollers take their res-pective positions throughout the big room, one gets the exciting stereo treatment . . . beautiful music coming out of everywhere.

Seeing and hearing is be-lieving so hie ye down there some nite soon and enjoy a wonderful evening of good food and equally good enter-tainment.

That was a gas down at Spense Van Winkle's spot on Western in San Pedro last Friday nite! The musicians' union decided to pick that nite to throw a picket line around the House of Prime and Capri Room so Van had a sign made up reading "Free Coffee to our Pickets," set it up on the back of his pick-up, put out a bunch of cups, cream, sugar, spoons and plenty of hot coffee. As if that wasn't enough, both he AND the piano-player, Kattie Paige, stood out there and SERVED the boys in the cold and fog! How about that! Left it out there all evening, too, he did!

Then to compound the whole event . . . along toward the end of the evening, one of the pickets even dropped inside TO LISTEN TO THE MUSIC! Liked it, too, we're given to understand. So that's one way of combatting a problem, huh?! Which, as it turned out, was not a problem at all. Business was good.

You been by The Red Bal-loon on Hawthorne in Tor-rance lately? Well make it one day or evening soon and take advantage of quality food at quality prices.

For example, manager Clara Dalhke offers an all-you-can-eat thing at a dollar-nine that is something. Its Southern Fried Chicken and includes the whole shot — like creamy potatoes, whipped to a frazzle, hot and delicious chicken gravy, cole slaw, hot rolls and butter. Incidentally, there's no take-out with this deal so forget the doggie bit.

Then on Tuesday, Thurs-day and Saturday nites there is a ninety-nine cent special of spaghetti with meat sauce, tossed salad and garlic bread, also on an all-you-can-eat basis. Skim by there at 17544 Hawthorne this week end and make yourself known to the nice people you'll find there, waiting to serve you in the friendly and polite manner, as only the folks at The Red Balloon know how to do.

To enjoy truly exotic cock-tails plus superb Cantonese food one must visit Louis and Rose Song's Tea House at 25318 Crenshaw Blvd. in Tor-rance. And for highly enjoy-able entertainment it's Gale Stoddard, Wed. thru Sat. for sing-alongs or just fine lis-tening. This little Polynesian chick will play and sing as long as you can and THEN some. Lots of talent, person-ality and willingness to please.

Add this to the bar-ability of Ron, serve-ability of the Connies, and you've got a full evening at The Tea House.

Dancing, singing, juggling, gags AND SHOES, plus won-derful talents that are loaded with personality, the Debbie Reynolds Show at the Hotel Riviera in Las Vegas, got off to a full evening of food, fun and frolic during our visit in gamblersville town last week. "Debbie Baby" is the fea-ture in the Versailles Room of this old standby Strip Spot in Las Vegas and you couldn't be more highly entertained.

Her "Half-Brothers" start the whole shot off with a hi-larious bit of nonsense in-volving waiters and bus-boys, then winding up with some of the strongest "Indian-club flipping" we've yet seen, in-cluding helpers from the au-dience.

Then Debbie herself comes on with impersonations you'd bet your roll on" are the real people; like Phillis Diller, for example, who you'll swear it IS her when Miss Reynolds comes swinging out on the curtains, with that hair-do and the cigarette-holder, plus the laugh! And her impres-sion of Pearl Bailey will put you away for sure.

You combine such antics as the things this little gal goes through along with guys like Roy Zitzell, Harve Evans, and Rudy Render and you know you've got an evening ahead.

And who could ask for a better PR man than Debbie Reynolds when it comes to "selling" shoes for Karl's "Shoes! Boy, she turns every black-out into a commercial! But she does it all with TASTE! Good show!
