

Semi-Finalists Named In State Competition

Thirty-two South High School students have been named semi-finalists in the 1967 California State Scholarship Commission competition, Dr. John A. Lucas, principal, announced today.

Under terms of the 1966 budget bill and the state Education Code, a total of some 2,700 scholarships will be awarded by the commission this year. Winners will be announced about April 6.

Others were: Joseph S. Uberman, Robert S. Buttles, Tomas W. Crispin, David P.

South Side

Three-ringed it may not be, but a circus still when the Harlem Clowns, professional basketball players, clash with faculty cagers in South High's gym at 8 p.m., Feb. 16.

South teachers won't be playing for keeps Thursday but South's varsity team was dead serious last Friday when Chuck Fernandes shot the winning two points against Redondo. The varsity team meets Santa Monica this Friday in a home game at 8 p.m.

Sore feet and smiles were worn by South's drill team, flag twirlers and band after their fast-paced trek in the Torrance Boy Scout parade last Saturday. The drill team will be back in condition to entertain Friday during the half-time show when the green and white costumed girls will do routines to the music of the Tijuana Brass and from the score of West Side Story.

BLUE AND red lights spotlighted South's gym as each contending band played to a capacity crowd at the Battle of the Bands last Friday. In Cassius Clay style, Chapter VI was voted the "greatest of them all" again this year. The prize — $100 and much applause.

Each of the armed forces was represented today on a panel of men who spoke to senior boys on subjects ranging from the draft to life-time careers.

"Teenagers and Narcotics" is the title and topic of a lecture sponsored by the PTA for parents tonight in South's cafeteria.

South's varsity wrestling team retained its position of second place after defeating Redondo last Friday. Spartan wrestlers will grapple to win the Bay League wrestling tournament Feb. 10 at Mira Costa. Winning will mean a co-championship for South. Preliminaries start at 2:30 and finals are at 7:30. Grapplers Jeff Arrieta and Marty remain undefeated.

Saxon Senior Wins Top Award

Jerry Gans, a senior at North High School, will receive the Bausch and Lomb Honorary Science Award at graduation exercises next June.

Gans, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Gans of 13319 S. St., Andrews Place, now is eligible to compete for scholarships to be awarded by the University of Rochester, N.Y.
