May Co. Salutes American Fashion Talent

LATE-DAY FASHION

Designer Preston Smith chose apricot rayon worsted for this jeweled buttoned top coat worn over an apricot classic designed dress for the after-five occasion. Details are a high yoke on the coat and the roll collar on the dress.

Spotlight

Classic Design, Femininity

A return to femininity, marked with elegant simplicity, for the woman on the go, characterizes the American designer fashions shown in a press preview by the May Co. last Monday.

Uncontrived fashion for her busy days, the collection offered a new white leather fabric in coat and jacket worn with fortrel and cotton pants as well as smart pant suits in red, black and white cotton checks by Lynn Stuart of Mr. Pants.

In the home entertaining fashion parade Eddie George chose bright California prints for coulottes as well as the long dress in orlon and cotton twill.

The belt is making its comeback and in the daytime dress, Mike Korwin belted a long checked jacket over a navy blue pleated skirt and from Claret a checked belted jacket covered a simple black dress.

Youthful sophistication and design have been captured by these American fashion designers in their late-day apparel for today's vital woman. An apricot rayon worsted coat worn over an apricot chiffon dress with matching shoes was an outstanding creation as well as Preston Smith's striped linen coat over a soft beige dress.

A romantic, feminine approach delineated the after-five creations by Victor Costa of Suzy Perette, in a showing of pastel crepes in classic designs. With these, milady will wear the new "shimmering" stocking.

Along with these new fashions, the "new" in flattering accessories were shown including footwear, handbags and millinery.

May Co. California will honor 11 American Fashion Designers at the Mayda Awards Presentation this evening at the Music Center.

Honored will be Michael Korwin, Victor Costa, Preston Smith, David Barr, Victor Joris, Eddy George, Lynn Stuart, and Erna Balla. Others are Fred Slatten for footwear; Lou Nathan for handbags; and Joe Kahn for millinery.

In connection with the Award Presentation, informal modeling of the designers' collection will take place at the May Co. South Bay on Monday, Feb. 27, from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m.; Friday, March 3, from 5:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.; Saturday, March 4, 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.; and Saturday, March 11, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.
