SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA — you start a meal without at least a half dozen, you've wasted your visit here.

"... for hotel recommendations?"

"The newest is the Wentworth, very like an international Hilton. The Chevron-Hilton was very good, but it's been five years since I stayed there. Very modern and rooms had beautiful views. The Carlton Rex and the Menzies are good. The Australia, grand old lady, is being perked up and having her face lifted. It was a little too old-fashioned for me. Maybe they've changed it.

Up at lively King's Cross, you'd like the modern, small Town House. Splendid views and many specials in the suites. Japanese hapi coats in the bathrooms and 360-degree mirrors. (Great if you like yourself all the way around in a mirror.)

It has a good dining room. No bar. BUT — they serve you ice, and liquor comes to your room by the bottle at store prices — lower than ours. Write for their folder: Town House, Elizabeth Bay Road, Sydney.

"... for recommended restaurants?"

"I haven't been disappointed in any restaurant so far. Try these: French Tavern. Angus Steak Cave. (Both cellar warehouse places.) Weinkeller, where you choose excellent wines from a great stack of bottles. Pruniers, small and intimate, and get an early reservation. Renzo's New Orleans Restaurant has got the New Orleans grill work, a nice piano and food's good. Henschke Reising is the best dry white wine I've run into. And the Seppelt's Chateau Burgundy is like a bill.

Around King's Cross and Paddington, there are dozens of good little restaurants at easy prices. They have no liquor license. So — you go next door to a bottle shop and get a half of claret or burgundy and take it in with you. It's the thing to do.

"... the customs on tipping?"

Australians still don't tip much of the time and then little. The old two shilling florin is used and is figured at 20 cents Australian. That seems to be the bellboy-bat-check-doorman tip. About 12 per cent on your restaurant bill.

On Committee

Frank G. Rizzardi, 23544 Carlow Road, has been named to Fair Enterprise Medallion Awards Committee of the Southern California Industry Education Council. Awards will be presented Wednesday, March 29.

Wins Honors

Stephen J. Gayer, a West High senior, has been selected as a finalist in the Southern California Edison Co. scholarship program. Selection of the scholarship winner will be made in April.

Los Angeles Man Charged In Robbery

A Los Angeles man has been ordered to answer two counts of robbery in Superior Court following a preliminary hearing in the South Bay Municipal Court.

Stanley S. Vance, 19 of 1820 S. Cloverdale St., Los Angeles has been ordered to appear in Department A of the Southwest Superior Court at 9 a.m. March 28.

Judge George R. Perkovich set bail at $3,500. Vance was remanded to the County Jail.

Students Watch TV for Classes

More than 100 Harbor College students are obtaining part of their college education via the television set.

They are students in two classes, Business 1 and Music 32, that are being televised this semester for college credit for Los Angeles junior college students.

Harbor students comprise 30 of the 400 students city-wide taking the business class. Forty-six of the 581 students taking the music course come from Harbor.

Should we exchange money in the U.S. before going on a South Pacific cruise?

No point in it. The exchange is the same there and down here. You'll probably exchange at the purser's office anyway at the same rate. Tahiti's francs might be a little weak, but there's a strict money control. There's always a better-than-exchange price in Tahiti. But not an open black market.

You pay $1.12 U.S. for one Australian dollar. It buys a lot more than the exchange value. At the best restaurants (in U.S. dollars): Steak, $2.50. Human's champagne, $8. Scotch and water, two ounces, 69 cents. Australian wine was a sleeper in this beer-drinking country. The Australians have discovered what a good thing they have and are drinking it now. Still inexpensive.

Sydney rock oysters — the world's best — are $1.25 a dozen. They run about an inch in diameter. Come in a shell that looks like it had been cut with pinkish shears. If
