The price of electricity has dropped 34% since 1939.

That's a switch.

Just about everything else has gone up.

But not the price of Edison electricity.

A kilowatt-hour has gone down in price 34% since 1939.*

Then how come your electric bill isn't lower today?

Answer: you're using a lot more electricity today.

The typical home uses electricity 40 different ways.

Of course, being investor-owned (we have approximately 145,000 stockholders, many of whom are customers) gives Edison an added incentive.

We have to do our level best to keep electricity abundant and low in cost.

The "boss" is all around us.

*The average cost of a kilowatt-hour of electricity to Edison's residential customers today is 34.4% lower than in 1939.
