 1208 Greenwood Ave. Persons who previously filed applications for the seat held by the late Dr. Kurt Shery are asked to phone Lynn if they wish to renew their applications.

Dr. Wilson was elected to the school board in April of 1965 when he led a field of 14 candidates.

IN HIS departing comments before the school board, Dr. Wilson said he is convinced Torrance not only benefits from a highly competent board of education, but the caliber of administrators, certificated and non-certificated employees of the district assures an outstanding educational program.

Dr. Wilson is director of teacher education at the University of Southern California.

... Center

 schools, both public and parochial, attend classes at the center.

Dr. Butterbaugh believes the concept of the center is long overdue. Although there have been vocational high schools in this country for 50 years, he said, these institutions have been stigmatized as havens for "dunderheads and drop-outs." Dr. Butterbaugh stated, Vocational students should not be considered second-raters, he continued, because society needs gifted welders and machinists as well as gifted professional people.

"THE CENTER makes sense from the social justice point of view as well as the fiscal point of view," the superintendent underlined. Dr. Butterbaugh noted that five other school districts in California are studying the feasibility of building similar centers, several of which will be located in areas heavily populated by minorities.

Currently operating from a single temporary structure near Crenshaw and Sepulveda boulevards, the center will move into an adjacent trade-technical building when the structure is completed in September, 1969. The four-story main building is slated for completion in September, 1971.

 ual's effort more productive than ever before," Babcock said.

Plans for a report meeting to be held at the Palms Restaurant Wednesday, May 1, are under way and invitations should be ready this week. Several hundred area businessmen and property owners are expected to attend.

Norwood will be asked to make a report on his early studies at that meeting, Babcock said.
