

Tartar Teen Talk

By Pam Anderson

Yes, it's election time again! You know—when everyone around campus rushes to fill out their applications and plaster the campus with their posters. When there are at least four or five people running for each office, even the Girls' League offices.

No—this isn't a fairy tale. It should be what's happening at THS—but unfortunately it isn't. Would you like to know what the real story at Tartarville is?

Every day for one week prior to the election, bulletins

Just enough to have someone running for each office—and sometimes not even that. In desperation the student council extends the due date for applications in hopes that some more people will run for office. After all, it doesn't look good to have only the president's office and the vice president's to have two people running and all the rest unopposed.

This is what's really happening at Torrance High. Everyone acts as if holding office is something to ignore, something for only the kissys and brains. If this is true, how can you explain the fact that every member of the Homecoming court, varsity football players, members of the school newspaper and annual staff, basketball players, baseball players, and cheerleaders have all held office in the past.

I'M NOT saying that by running for office one can automatically become a star football player or a homecoming finalist. But I am saying that running for and holding an office is nothing to be ashamed of. Rather it is something to look forward to, something to work for, and something that brings new friends, a rewarding experience, good times, and prestige.

Student body elections are tomorrow.

Basketball Tournament Tops Youth Calendar

The Youth Activity Center of the Lomita Recreation Center will hold its first activity this Friday.

The event will be the basketball tournament open to the first 12 boys or girls that sign up. There will be two teams of six players each. The game will be made up of four six-minute quarters. Awards will be presented to the winning team.

Coming activities include the appearance of "The Past Daze," a young band. The boys were previously known as "The Young Varmints." They will appear at the Y.A.C. on Friday, Jan. 26.

The Y.A.C. is open to any boy or girl between the ages of 10 and 14. Y.A.C. meets each Friday at the Lomita Recreation Center from 7 to 9 p.m.

Admission to the first Y.A.C. activity will be 25 cents for Y.A.C. card holders and 35 cents for nonmembers.

Bel Canto Singing Class To Feature Italian Method

Anyone interested in singing will have the opportunity to develop his voice at a class now being offered at the Lomita Recreation Center, 24428 Eshelman Ave. Adrian Rosati, exponent of the "bel canto" method, will be the instructor.

Signor Rosati's voice training class is slated to begin Monday at 4 p.m.

"Bel canto," which means "beautiful song" in Italian, originated around Naples and Salerno, making southern Italy the singing capital of the world. Bel canto stresses the development of voice through correct control of vowel sounds.

Rosati attended Solerino Music Conservatory not far from the birthplace of the great Caruso. He has taught group singing at recreation centers throughout this area.
