The dog has a share of man's intelligence but no share of man's falsehood. You may bribe an assassin to slay a fellow mortal but you can not make a dog tear his benefactor.

A dog is the uncontested friend to man except when man justly incurs his enmity."

BARKS AND YAPS—Should your dog accidentally burn himself and provided the burns are not serious, apply tannic acid ointment or unguentine. In the event neither of these remedies are at hand, make a pot of strong tea, cool it and apply liberally. . . . Keep this in mind, too: Adequate calcium, phosphorus and Vitamin D are necessary for the development of strong, healthy teeth. Malformed or structurally faulty teeth usually result from dietary inadequacies. Incidentally, I wonder how many of my readers know that a dog has 42 teeth, 10 more than man? That's a fact, 20 in the upper jaw and 22 in the lower. Guess this must be the reason its front page news when man bites a dog . . . George Bernard Shaw once said of vivisection: "Atrocities are not less atrocities because they occur in laboratories and are called medical research . . ."

THIS REPORTER joins fellow columnists Harry Miller in urging dog lovers to petition their congressmen and senators to support the issuance of the proposed Boston Terrier commemorative stamp during 1968. This year marks the 75th anniversary of the dapper little terrier from Boston. The USA has never issued a strictly bow wow stamp and I think its high time that Uncle Sam saluted man's best friend . . . Boris Karloff is an avid Bedlington Terrier fancier, Don Wilson goes for the Poodle and Mayor Sam Yorty favors the Dalmatian . . .

DID YOU HEAR the one about the two women exhibiting at a dog show, who had just met and were comparing notes. One said, "So, you're from Chicago. I know a judge there, a fine man and very understanding." Her companion was interested instantly and replied, "You do? Lucky you! What breed?" "Forgive me," said her friend, "he's a Federal judge."

BREED OF THE WEEK—Gordon Setter . . . The least known of the three Setter breeds is Scotland's handsome black and tan gift to dogdom, the Gordon Setter. The Gordon Setter takes his name from the third Duke of Gordon who did much to develop the breed at his castle kennels several hundred years ago.

I could name several "one man" breeds of dog, but without doubt this is one of the most striking examples. He is fanatically loyal to his master and displays a forceful hostility with equal zeal to any other dog who enters his province. They crave the family circle and invariably pine for the one they love most.

THE GORDON SETTER is jet black with tan markings on the muzzle, tips of each paw, the hindquarters and over each eyebrow. The coat is soft and shiny, longer on the ears, underbody and legs. The Gordon Setter tips the scales at about 55 pounds and in height 25 inches.

In the Gordon Setter we find beauty, loyalty and intelligence blending into a joyful union of comradeship.

Creative Crafts
Children who wish to participate in craft programs at the Lomita Recreation Center are invited to attend on Tuesdays or Thursdays from 4 to 5 p.m. The classes, free of charge, feature projects with papier mache, plaster, and felt.

South High Instructor To Head School Council

John Conway, mathematics teacher at South High School, has been named chairman of the Torrance Unified School District Negotiations Council. He succeeds Donald Kusch.

An employe of Torrance schools for the past six years, Conway taught in Marion and Kankton, S.D., prior to coming to California.

He is a graduate of the State College of South Dakota where he obtained both his bachelor's and master's degrees. He has done advanced work at the University of Southern California.

A resident of Torrance, Conway is married and has three children, John, 11; Kathleen, 10, and Terse, 9, who attend Arnold Elementary School.

His hobbies are bowling, golf, and bridge. Conway is vice president of the Torrance American Little League and is in charge of the league's senior division. He also serves as a Pop Warner football coach and is president of the South Bay Math League.

Boat Check Established

A free courtesy motorboat examination station has been established in Marina Del Rey by Division 4 of the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary. The station is located at the Union Oil Fuel Dock and is in operation every Saturday and Sunday
