For Leo F. X. Salisbury

For several years we have watched with admiration the efforts of Leo F. X. Salisbury to improve the community in which he and his family live and in which he is active as an independent businessman. Frankly, we have been impressed. Mr. Salisbury has demonstrated an unbounding enthusiasm for the many projects in which he has an interest. He is a vigorous businessman, served with distinction as a member of the city's Planning Commission, and was singularly responsible for the formation of a merchants sign committee to fight city-sponsored proposals to impose drastic restrictions on business signs in Torrance. In this latter battle, incidentally, Mr. Salisbury appears to be near victory as the City Council committee named to study the problem has shown a general agreement with his proposals and in some cases appear to take a more liberal approach to sign restrictions. The Press-Herald is convinced that Mr. Salisbury would make a competent city councilman and that he has energy and talents which the city could use to its advantage. The Press-Herald recommends that Leo F. X. Salisbury be elected to the City Council on April 9.
