

Spring Program Opens at YWCA

Activities Planned For All The Family

FUTURE BALLERINAS

An early start in learning poise and coordination is supplied for preschool girls in the ballet class. Youngsters, going through routines, are from left, April Sadler 5, Cindy Carrington 4, and Marla Masak 5.

POPULAR GUITAR CLASSES

HAIRSTYLING SESSION

A professional know-how in creating the new spring hairstyles is being taught by Mrs. Herbert Waters, who is assisting Mrs. Leeland Green with her hair, while, at right, Mrs. Joseph Hillock, learns to properly applying eye makeup. Classes in theater dance and charm are also on the agenda for women.

Spring session of activities "From Winter into Spring" is now open for registration at the Torrance YWCA, 2320 W. Carson St. The program of activities has been designed for families of the South Bay area to add new interest and a "little something extra" to the individual's life.

For women, looking ahead to the bathing suit season, classes are available in exercise and dance to help slim trim the body. These classes are slated for both daytime and evening. "Trimnastics," on Thursday morning offer exercise, body counseling and volleyball. The evening class in Theater Dance, every Wednesday, uses theater techniques to make exercise exciting, fun and profitable. There are also sessions in interpretative dance and Yoga, charm and hairstyling.

Teenage girls are also offered classes in theater dance, to slim the figure, as well as sessions in charm and hairstyling. Teenagers are also given the opportunity to learn guitar, piano, baton twirling and oil painting.

With the elementary school age boys and girls in mind, Y personnel has worked up an interesting slate of activities including guitar, piano, ballet, tap dancing and the "something new" for girls 7 to 9 years is the Junior Chef class. This will include 8 lessons, one a week, for cooking, serving, table appointments and arrangements and will conclude with a dinner for the parents of the girls.

This class will meet Saturday afternoon from 1 to 2:30 p.m. beginning this week.

The only class offered by the YWCA for "boys only" is tumbling. This popular class for 6 to 10 year olds gives instructions in tumbling techniques, summersaults, cart wheels, head stands and body lifts, bringing about balance, coordination and dexterity.

The "Junior Magicians" class is again being offered for both boys and girls from 6 to 10 years, with Scott Kinney instructing. This class meets Tuesday at 4:30 p.m.

Even the pre-schooler has a place at the Torrance YWCA where the little girls may learn pre-school ballet and boys and girls, 3 to 5 years, are offered two classes in "Creative Learning," which includes crafts (clay, finger painting, crayon, pasting, etc.) singing and finger games.

The more active classes called "Our Small Fry Hour" includes simple tumbling and rhythm band. Here, the children learn to follow instructions, learn rhythm and coordination. Because the pre-school classes are carefully limited in size, mothers are urged to call for pre-registration.

Persons interested in the YWCA's Spring Session may secure additional information fees, pre-registration, any of the classes, by calling the Torrance YWCA.

THE SMALL FRY HOUR

Active classes for the very young children offer tumbling, rhythm band and exercises. Teacher, Mrs. Ted Carrington, Jr. helps three-year-old Darlene Kieser with the wheelbarrow exercise, while on the floor, Cara Camilli 4, and Mark Masak 3, do the rocker routine.
