Library Features Adventure Films

Torrance Public Library has announced its first listing of films which are available to individuals or organizations throughout the city. The films are 16mm sound, and many of them are in color.

- The films are:
- "Atlantic Salmon in Newfoundland." Lee Wulff demonstrates his techniques used in salmon fishing and films his adventure in the remote serenity of one of Newfoundland's many salmon rivers. 13 min., color.
  - "Between the Tides." Interesting animal and plant life that is not always visible to the naked eye is found in rock pools and shallow water, among the breeding grounds of Britain's birds. 22 min., color.
  - "Golf and Grandeur." Golf and Grandeur takes you on the rounds of four of Alberta's finest courses. From Banff, the golfers travel the scenic Banff-Jasper Highway, with a brief stopover at Lake Louise and a glimpse of the Victoria glacier and the Columbia icefield. 19 min., color.
  - "The Jean Richard." A film describing the building of a goelette. The film shows every stage of Jean Richard's construction, from felling timbers in nearby forests to final launching in the spring. 29 min., color.

- "Phoebe—The Story of Premarital Pregnancy." Brilliant and unusual filming techniques are used to convey the inner feelings, and subjective thoughts of a teenage girl who discovers she is pregnant. It dramatically reveals her dilemma as she considers telling her parents, her boyfriend, and the school authorities, and considers various possible reactions to her and her situation. 29 min., black and white.
- "The Real West." A story of the early west illustrated through photographs and live action. 54 min., color.

- "Red Balloon." This is a fantasy about a boy and his "pet" balloon on the streets of Montmartre. 34 min., color.
- "White Tails." The film shows springtime in the Rockies when there is still plenty of good skiing in Alberta's high country. On mountain slopes the powder lies ankle-deep and often up to the knees. In the Banff, Lake Louise, and Whitehorn areas, you find some of the most exhilarating ski runs in the world, and the most modern ski lifts invented. 13 min., color.

- "With Camera and Gun in Newfoundland." A film which shows Lee Wulff, internationally-known sportsman, and his wife, Kay, stalking the game trails of Newfoundland, he with a gun, she with a camera. This film has won a prize trophy for the camera work done by Mrs. Wulff. 28 min.

Students at the San Diego seminar were chosen from top high school campuses in four western states.

Tips Are Not Wages, Says Board

Capitol News Service
SACRAMENTO—The California Unemployment Insurance Appeals Board has issued two rulings, one which determines which "tips" paid to waitresses are wages, and the second rejecting simultaneous payments of unemployment benefits and workmen's compensations benefits.

The board determined that tips, or gratuities, freely given by a patron and in an amount determined solely by him, are not wages under the law. However, where the cost of a meal and tip are combined in the price, such as is common at banquets and other events, the tips are wages.

Board Chairman Robert W. Sigg pointed out that in the latter case, the patron has no choice as to whether he will tip, or for how much.

THE BOARD also made a precedent setting decision which eliminated a loophole in the law which had permitted the simultaneous payment of benefits from the workmen's compensation fund and unemployment benefits. The decision requires that unemployment benefits must be offset by payments from the compensation fund. An overpayment of $50 or more would require returning the sum to the unemployment department.

IN DISCUSSING the decision on tips, Sigg said the rulings will allow waiters and waitresses to build up earning records which will qualify them for large benefits when they become unemployed. He said the "banquet" tips must be reported as earnings, even during periods of less than full time employment and could reduce or eliminate unemployment benefits during such periods.

He also issued a warning that the decisions are applicable only to California's unemployment insurance program and do not change a worker's duty to report all income, including the freely offered tips, under the federal income tax provisions.

Six Guns Turned In To Police

How has the recent controversy over gun control affected Torrance residents? Not a great deal judging from the number of guns voluntarily surrendered to the Torrance Police Department.

According to Officer A. W. Winkler in the property division, only six guns have been turned over to police since the death of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy on June 5. Although Winkler termed the number "unusual," he pointed out that the six guns were a motley selection of "old fashioned" firearms. Police plan to destroy the weapons.

HERBERT HANES JR.

Last Rites Held for THS Grad

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon for Herbert Eugene Hanes Jr., who died Wednesday after a long illness.

Young Hanes was graduated from Torrance High School in June, 1967, and attended El Camino College. He was active in a number of high school activities and in youth groups at the First Baptist Church of Torrance.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by four sisters, Cathy, Shirley Ann, and Cindy Hanes of Torrance and Clara Louise Robertson of Canoga Park; a brother, Michael Wayne Hanes of Torrance; and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert R. Hanes of Hawaiian Gardens, Mrs. Odessa Palmer of Torrance, and George A. Fee of Seal Beach.

His mother is employed by the Press-Herald.

In a separate report, City Manager Edward J. Ferraro stated that a survey of seven other cities indicates he deserves a 5 per cent salary increase and a 24 per cent adjustment.

Ferraro currently makes $2,112 per month ($25,344 annually). The increases he wants would boost his pay to $2,709 per month ($32,508 per year).

Symphony On Wheels Envisioned

Lilting background music to drown out the engines' roar is the latest scheme to spruce up the ailing Torrance Municipal Bus Lines.

Downbeat for the stereophonic, tape recorded music in each bus is set for Sept. 1. By that time, each of the 16 buses will have been repainted in eye-appealing red, gold, and blue.

Even the drivers will be wearing new hues. Charcoal pants and jackets will be accented with gray shirts and blue ties.

A new, hourly "Shoppers Express" service, carrying passengers between the New Horizons-Palo del Amo section, the Del Amo Center and Fashion Square, Anza Avenue and South Bay Center, will also begin Sept. 1.

The innovations are part of the city's long-term program to make travel more appealing to local residents.

... Races

(Continued from Page 1) board may weigh 5 pounds less for each six inches if it is less than 11 feet. Boards must be a normal type of surfboard capable of being surfed.

The specifications adopted by the Surfing Association are designed to give each racer an equal opportunity and eliminate the possibility of having special boards built for racing purposes only.

Leading contender in the surfboard race will be defending champion Jerry Bennett. A strong field will be challenging him for first place. All of the following are rated with an excellent chance of dethroning Bennett: Bobby Brunside of Zuma Beach, Mike Stevenson of Hermosa Beach, Merv Larson and Kenny Lynn of Carpinteria, John Baker, Los Angeles County Lifeguard from Hermosa Beach.

Entries for this and other events scheduled during the four day civic event can be obtained at the Hermosa Beach Parks and recreation Department or Dick Fitzgerald at the Redondo Beach Chamber of Commerce.

... Gun Law Cases

(Continued from Page 1) a concealable firearm or other dangerous weapon on his person or in a vehicle. Loaded weapons, whether concealed or not, are also forbidden in public. However, the law specifically says that a citizen may keep a firearm in his home or carry one if he believes he or his property are in "immediate danger."

Only peace officers or duly licensed persons may make a practice of carrying guns in public.

Harvey Reports '68 Sales

Harvey Aluminum, Inc., has reported net sales for the first nine months ending June 30, 1968, were $126,281,679, up 16.9 per cent from $107,994,781 for the nine months last year.

Net income for the nine month period was $10,729,662 comparable to $10,830,206 earned in the same period last year.

Earnings per share were $1.68 on 6,393,757 average number of shares outstanding on June 30, 1968, compared to $1.88 per share on 5,758,680 average number of shares outstanding in the same period last year.

Several elements contributed to the decrease in earnings per share. The 10 per cent income tax surcharge in the amount of $733,731 reduced earnings by 11 cents per share. The investment tax credit of $303,051 amounted to 5 cents per share this year, compared to $2,624,257 or 46 cents earned per share for the same period last year.

The conversion of subordinated debentures resulted in an increase of 635,077 in the average number of shares outstanding as of June 30, 1968, over the average number of shares outstanding as of June 30, 1967.

Captain Hammond's views are by no means exceptional. Tap any Torrance policeman on the shoulder and ask his views on gun legislation. More than likely, he'll allege that current laws aren't being properly enforced so what's the use of passing new gun laws.

Officer A. W. Winkler was among those who didn't object to be quoted. He insists that there should be mandatory jail sentences for every concealed weapon violation.

"If these guys get caught with a gun, they should know darn well the judge will give them a jail sentence," he exclaimed. "That would do a heck of a lot more good than this registration business."

Winkler said he believes the solution is to "enlighten the people about what's going on."

(Torrance Police Chief Walter R. Koenig will express somewhat different views in a future issue.—ed.)

'Welcome' Is DMV's New Motto

A different sort of California license plate is on display at the Torrance office of the Department of Motor Vehicles. The only word on it is "Welcome!" and it's the theme of a new statewide campaign in which every employee in every one of the department's 145 offices has been asked to take part.

The campaign was developed and launched by Verne Orr, director of motor vehicles, to help build a bridge of sincerity across the counter where DMV employees and the public meet.

Every employe is wearing a lapel pin with the word "Welcome" on it. This is supplemented by large posters bearing the same message at each entrance to the DMV office.
