

Study Tips Offered By Teachers' Group

FALL '68 . . . An exciting new look for Fall '68 is this giant houndstooth jacket in a wool-blend that is belted, banded, and buttoned in leather. The matching all wool umbrella doubleknit skirt completes the look. This Jantzen outfit is available in Licorice, Indian Blue, Candy Apple, and Gold-enrod. The skirt also comes in Acorn and Moss.

Far too many students fail to function at anything close to their maximum ability because they don't know how to study and use their time effectively.

The California Teachers Association (CTA) offers a series of steps students can take to improve learning ability:

- Develop a time schedule.
- Establish a quiet place to study at home.
- Obtain essential equipment for study.

- Follow a recommended system for better learning when reading class assignments.
- Keep your mind on your work when studying by following a few simple rules aiding concentration.

A TIME schedule is necessary, the CTA said, because it is the best way a student can plan his time carefully. In preparing a schedule the pupil should first figure out how much of his time is not now taken up with "musts," like eating, sleeping and school. Most youngsters will find that they have six hours a day left for homework, chores and recreation. These activities should be worked into the pupil's time chart. When completed, the schedule should leave plenty of time for both play and homework. Once the schedule is completed, it should be followed most of the time.

- Read the complete lesson. Take special note of headings and topic sentences.
- Read the lesson a second time. Study different parts until you understand what the author is saying. Look up words you don't know. Follow all directions given by the book. Check maps and charts as they are mentioned in the text.

- Answer all questions listed by the teacher. If no questions have been suggested, make up some of your own. When you have finished reading, write the answers without looking them up in the book. Then check your answers with the book, correcting any errors. Do this for each section of the assignment.

- When the entire reading assignment has been completed, close the book and cover the answers to your questions. Then answer them one at a time. Look up all questions you can't answer.

CONCENTRATION during homework periods is essential to effective learning. Here are a few suggestions to keep your mind from wandering:

- Study at your desk or table and avoid all distractions.
- Have all necessary materials at hand when you sit down to study. It is impossible to concentrate if one keeps getting up and wandering around the room or house.
- Place a time limit on the work you have started and try to finish within that time limit. However, don't sacrifice accuracy for speed.
- Work on the most difficult part of the lesson first.
- After you have studied 30 minutes, give yourself a time-out period of three or four minutes. Then go back to work.

By following these simple tips, the CTA said, pupils will learn more—and they will be better prepared to use what they have learned.
