Dr. Osman Hull

Funeral services for Dr. Osman R. Hull, dean emeritus of the University of Southern California School of Education, were held Friday in Immanuel Presbyterian Church, Los Angeles, where he had been a member nearly 38 years.

The Rev. Dr. William S. Meyer, pastor, officiated. Interment was in Sunset View Cemetery, Berkeley.

Dr. Hull, 78, died late Tuesday night in Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital. He had a chronic heart condition which forced him to give up the USC deanship in 1953 after holding it the post eight years. He retired from the USC faculty in 1958 after 34 years service.

Dean Hull is survived by his widow, Evelyn May of Los Angeles; a son, Osman H. Hull, M.D., of Monterey; and twin daughters, Mrs. M. Theodore Meire of 1309 Maple Ave., Torrance, and Mrs. Lewis E. Bissell of Upland.

Anna McIntier

The rosary was recited Friday followed by the celebration of a requiem mass Saturday morning at the Church of the Nativity for Anna McIntier, 84, who died Wednesday. Mrs. McIntier lived in Torrance 40 years, though she was residing in LaMirada at the time of her death.

Born in Nova Scotia, she is survived by a daughter, Terry Baker of La Mirada; a sister, Teresa Marie of Tucson, Ariz.; three sons, John E. of Placenta; Raymond of Yuma, Ariz.; and Joseph G. of Alamogordo, N.M. Also 13 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Interment was at Calvary Cemetery, Halverson-Leavell in charge of arrangements.

Dagmar Jackson

Private funeral services conducted Friday by Stone and Myers Mortuary for Dagmar Johanna Jackson, 55, who died Aug. 31 after living in the Torrance area for six years.

Formerly of 22617 S. Vermont Ave., she is survived by a brother, William H. Gilbert, and a sister, Thelma La Roque, both of Covina.

Mark A. Montroy

Graveside services were held Friday at Stone and Myers Mortuary Chapel for Mark Anthony Montroy, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Downey of 1011 Joel St., who died Sept. 2.

He is survived by four brothers, Craig, Steven and Robert Lee Montroy, and Brian Downey, and a sister, Debra Ann, all of Torrance. Also a grandmother, Vivian Perva of North Long Beach. Interment was at Roosevelt Memorial Park.

Luddie E. Jones

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at Stone and Myers Mortuary Chapel for Ludie Estelle Jones, 79, who died Wednesday in Huntington Park after living in the Torrance area for 40 years.

She is survived by a son, Carl P. Miller of Hemet; a brother, B. P. Pendleton of Waleria; a granddaughter and five great-grandsons. Local interment will follow the services, Rev. Ken Dahlstrom officiating.

For Servicemen

Chace Outlines Balloting Facts

Friends and relatives of servicemen and their dependents stationed outside of the County of Los Angeles, away from their legal addresses, are urged to advise them how they may register to vote or file an absentee ballot, Supervisor Burton W. Chace said today.

To obtain an absentee ballot, a serviceman may ask for federal application form No. 76 from the elections services officer in his command.

This application must be filled in, signed by him, and mailed to the Registrar-Recorder, 863 N. Spring St., Los Angeles, Calif. 90012, no later than Oct. 31, 1968.

Ballots are sent airmail to the servicemen and must be returned to the Registrar-Recorder before 5 p.m., on Nov. 4, 1968.

If the form No. 76 is not available, a letter with the following information is sufficient for absentee ballot issue:

1. Name of election;
2. Los Angeles County residence (address) of applicant;
3. Reason for request;
4. Mailing address to which ballot is to be forwarded;
5. Signature of applicant.

Stamp Club Sets Meeting For Monday

When the Torrance Stamp Club holds its next meeting, tomorrow, its members will be in for an evening of fun. There will be a stamp quiz and some of the questions asked will really test their knowledge of stamps.

The members enjoy these quizzes and are looking forward to this one, prizes to the winners will be stamps and other philatelic items.

The club meets at 7:30 p.m. in the Scott community building, 23410 Catskill Ave., Carson. All stamp collectors are welcome to attend the meetings.

Shotgun Holdup Foiled

Quick-acting Torrance policemen rounded up four armed robbery suspects early Friday morning, just moments after a local liquor store was held up.

Fitting the description of the holdup suspects were Francisco L. Guerrero, 18, of Huntington Lane, Redondo Beach, and three teenage boys. The four were driving west on Sepulveda Boulevard when Torrance police made the arrest at 1:40 a.m.

Police said the suspects are linked to a holdup at Anchor Liquor, 23804 Crenshaw Blvd., in which two young men took $100 cash at gunpoint. The holdup occurred just 10 minutes prior to the arrests.

Robbery witnesses told police one suspect held store attendants and customers at bay with a sawed-off shotgun while the other scooped up the cash from the register.

When police searched the car, they found $100 cash rolled up behind an ashtray and a sawed-off shotgun under the seat.

Man Grabs Purse From Pedestrian

Torrance police are looking for a young man who snatched a purse from an area woman Thursday night.

Police said a purse containing $55 was pulled from the arm of Mrs. Alice Posthumous, 62, of 16210 Wilton Place, as she was walking east on 162nd Street about 9 p.m.

The suspect escaped in a car driven by an accomplice.

FINISHED PRODUCT . . . Checking completion of the improvement and widening of Broadway from Walnut Street to north of Victoria Street are (from left) Lt. Arthur E. Allen of the California Highway Patrol headquarters, 18220 S. Broadway; Mayor John Marbut of Carson (kneeling); Arlyn V. Weber, deputy to Supervisor Kenneth Hahn, who initiated the project; Councilman Gilbert D. Smith of Carson; Capt. Pat Ford of the CHP; and Carl J. Hoffman, president of the Harbor District Chambers of Commerce. Broadway was widened to a four-lane, fully curbed highway with curb, gutter, drives, and sidewalk as part of the over-all project to improve the important roadway between El Segundo Boulevard and Main Street.

Pre-School Classes Slated by District

Five child observation classes will be conducted for parents of pre-school youngsters by the adult education division of Torrance Unified School District this fall at two Torrance parks.

Classes at McMaster Park, 3624 W. 174th St., will be conducted for children from 2 1/2 to 5 years of age Tuesday and Thursday mornings from 9 o'clock to noon. Mrs. Lillian Randall will be the teacher.

Parents who wish to enroll in either class are asked to register either Tuesday, Sept. 17, or Thursday, Sept. 19, at the park.

OBSERVATION classes for parents of 3 to 5-year-olds will be held at Waleria Park, 3655 W. 242nd St., Wednesday and Friday mornings from 9 o'clock to noon. Both classes will be limited to 35 participants.

Registration for the Wednesday class will be taken by the teacher, Mrs. Josephine Schlefhofer, at the first meeting of the class, Sept. 18. Parents who wish to register for the Friday class may do so Sept. 20 with Mrs. Pamela Bennett, teacher.

A special class for four-year-olds who will be entering kindergarten in the fall of 1969 will be held at Waleria Park Mondays from 9 a.m. to noon beginning Sept. 16. Instructor will be Mrs. Nancy Meyer.

PARENTS who wish to enroll are requested to leave youngsters at home the first day as the initial meeting will be an orientation session for mothers. Registration will be accepted at the first class.

Persons desiring additional information are asked to contact the adult education office at FA 8-8080, extension 295, afternoons, and FA 8-9206 evenings.

'Big Wayward Girl'

History of California To Be Published Friday

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR
 Capitol News Service

SACRAMENTO — Perhaps the title "Big Wayward Girl" is a little unusual for an informal political history of California, but Herbert L. Phillips, author of the work, is an unusual fellow.

In his new book, published by Doubleday & Company, Inc., scheduled for public distribution Friday, Phillips unfolds the entire kaleidoscope of the amazing saga which has been and is continuing to be an almost unbelievable series of events marking the government of a people who in the beginning numbered only a handful, and now have grown to twenty million.

Probably no writer in the political field is as qualified as Phillips to deal with the subject matter in this new book, which seems to be destined to take its place on library shelves the country over, in the classrooms of schools throughout the state, in reference collections and for just good reading.

PRIOR to his political editorship of the Sacramento Bee, Phillips was on the Sacramento Union, and the San Francisco Examiner. As a reporter with some 40 years of experience in the California political scene, the intimate of governors and high state officials, he was in a position to see all, know all and tell all, which he did with astounding insight and ability.

Thus "Big Wayward Girl" is the culmination not only of hard work and much research, but also of on-the-scene contact with his subject.

In his foreword, the author points out "California is a big girl now, with magnificent measurements and all the self-assurance of a repeated beauty contest winner, but she still has a persistent, nationwide reputation of waywardness."

"THE COMPLAINT of professional politicians around the country is that the stunning object of their growing attention is altogether too fickle.

"By fits and turns over the years, California has exhibited all the eccentricities, ambition, charm, and unpredictability of an old-time Hollywood movie queen."

Thorough writer and reporter that he is, Phillips starts off with California's first governor, Gaspar de Portola; takes the reader through the fascinating era of the Spanish regime; the castanets and siesta under the Mexicans; the Bear Flag Republic; the Pacific Republic, a little known fact of California history, and the American occupation.

THE RAILROAD empire and the role of the Central and Southern Pacific in California politics and the crusade of the late Hiram Johnson are vividly portrayed, along with their influence on the lives of the people at that time.

Quite naturally, the book emphasizes the later era of politics, from the days of Governor William D. Stephens down to the present Ronald Reagan, as this was the era with which the author is most familiar.

The idiosyncracies indulged in by the populace, including "Thirty Dollars Every Thursday," the Upton Sinclair attempt to gain a foothold for socialism and the constitutional amendment instituting a new welfare administration along with its quick demise, all are a part of the book.

THE LOBBYING profession in California and its influence on legislation is not neglected either, the gyrations of former king-pin Artie Samish being one of the highlights along with the shaking up the Philbrick report gave the state legislature.

All in all, "Big Wayward Girl" is worth a lot more than the $5.95 Doubleday asks for it, for what it contains are the cold facts of political life in this greatest state of the Union.

Today Is Preschool Anniversary

Today marks the beginning of the eighth year of the St. James Catholic Church Sunday School for preschoolers.

Open to St. James parishioners only, the classes will be geared to children from 3 to 5 years of age. Classes are scheduled during the 8, 9, 10, and 11:15 a.m. masses at the St. James Redondo School.

Spiritual advisors for the classes will be the Rev. Richard Miskella, Mrs. Octavio Rojas has been re-elected to the chairmanship of the school staff.

Hiro Tanaka, born and educated in Honolulu, has joined the staff at Tom Rody Dodge in the fleet, new car, and truck departments. In his second year on the mainland, Tanaka resides with his wife and child in Gardena.

Parents Call Police; Report Son

The parents of a 16-year-old Torrance boy called police Thursday afternoon when they arrived home to find their son and a friend grinding up what appeared to be marijuana in the kitchen blender.

Arrested at 22536 Eriel Ave. were Jeffrey Scott Glover, 18, of 22917-A Nadine Circle, and the younger boy.

Police confiscated a clear plastic bag and an envelope filled with the leafy green material.
